'Rattlesnake' Hunters

READY TO CARRY OUT ORDERS of Commander-in-Chief Franklin D. Roosevelt to destroy Axis raiders, "the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic," as he said last week, an American battleship, background, and light cruiser patrol the Atlantic. Sailor on cruiser's stern is listening for submarine motors, while loaded depth charge racks in front of him stand ready for action.

DESPITE AXIS ATTACKS ON U.S. SHIPPING, such as the Suez raid that damaged the American merchantman Arkansan, and the Red Sea sinking of the Steel Seafarer, supplies for the British are getting through. Photo above, just received in New York by clipper, shows an American tank being unloaded at an Egyptian port.

War Secretary Says

Nazis Have Millions To Throw Into War

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—John J. McCloy, assistant United States Secretary of War, declared today the Germans have 300 divisions totaling 9,000,000 to 10,000,000 men under arms and that perhaps 100 of these are yet to be thrown into the battle of Russia.

Before the Michigan Bar Association he said it was probable hostilities would spread to the Mediterranean area, Spain and north and west Africa.

Today, he asserted, the war's hottest flame is burning before Leningrad and the rich Donets Basin of Russia.

McCloy's figures on German strength apparently represented the latest U.S. estimates made with full weight given to losses in the Russian campaign and compared with earlier estimates of 240 Nazi divisions and with Russian reports the Germans were being compelled to call in divisions from occupied countries all over Europe.

Germany, he said, "has 300 divisions under arms—nine to 10 million men; England has only a fraction of that number; we have 33 and a cavalry brigade. Germany's air force alone is as large as our entire army."

As for America's part in the opposition to the German struggle for world mastery, McCloy said "we already have within our means full command of the sea if we wish to express it," and he added "with England we will at not too far a time command the air, and next year our armies, if needed, will be prepared to respond to the task we now foresee."

Indicating it might be planned to "land planes"—presumably army bombers—into the battle of the Atlantic, McCloy said such planes can operate effectively from shore bases and "navy people tell me that they should be able to exert a decisive influence on the ship sinkings in the Atlantic immediately they set about the job on an all-out basis."

New Shah Recognized

TEHERAN, Iran (AP)—Russia and Britain will recognize the new Shah of Iran, Mohammed Shah Pahlavi, by sending envoys to his reception for the diplomatic corps soon, it was authoritatively reported today.

Meanwhile, Gurkha riflemen from Nepal, India, replaced Russian sentries at the Tehran radio station near the factory where British troops are quartered. The Red army continued to guard other communications centres.

By agreement, the allies will not march through the capital's business section. The tanks and armoured cars that the Russians followed yesterday in expectation of a triumphal review on Riza Shah Boulevard remain parked at the airfields and in suburban gardens.

The Red troops included women in blue-grey army tunics and forage caps who stopped in the picturesque bazaars for bouquet of flowers.

The Russian force appeared to be a reserve outfit by Russian standards of equipment, but its discipline, marching technique and supply system impressed military observers.

Wisner to Speak

Attorney-General Gordon Wisner will make a 15-minute address from 7:30 to 7:45 (P.D.T.) tonight over the provincial network of the CBC.

The list of names as issued by the CBC included Johnny Schutz, British Columbia; S. Sgt. Wilkinson, Victoria; Pte. F. R. Watson, Victoria; Pte. Brown, Vancouver Island; George Seward, Victoria.

Frenchmen Want British Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fascist spokesman—Editor Virginio Gayda—wrote today "the majority of Frenchmen are pro-British and 'the single, dominating idea of France is to beat Germany,'" according to a BBC broadcast heard here.

Gayda was quoted as writing in Il Giornale d'Italia:

"In the hearts of Frenchmen reigns one unshakable sentiment: Anti-German victory. All hopes are placed in Britain and the work of De Gaulle."

"Today De Gaulle appeals to all the wishes of a people which refused to recognize defeat. The majority of Frenchmen are the supporters of De Gaulle."

Canadians in Russia

OTTAWA (CP)—There are a number of Canadians in the R.A.F. wing now operating in Russia but there are no Canadian squadrons in it, Wing Cmdr. Gordon Roy McGregor of Montreal, said today. Just returned from air operations overseas, he said it was almost impossible to find an R.A.F. squadron without some Canadians in it.

Lunch With Churchill

LONDON (CP)—W. Averell Harriman and other members of the United States mission to Moscow had luncheon today with Prime Minister Churchill. Also attending were members of the British Moscow mission.

To Call Reservists

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—W. A. Martin, registrar here for division A, announces members of the reserve army no longer will be exempt from compulsory military training under the four-month plan.

Mr. Martin said reservists who enlisted prior to August 15, 1940, now will be called in their age classes in the same manner as other youths.

Ignored Parades

VANCOUVER (CP)—E. S. Duck, first Vancouver reserve army soldier to be summoned under the Militia Act for failing to attend a parade, offered no explanation when he appeared before Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson in police court today and was remanded to September 23 for sentence. He was a member of the Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment) and was charged with neglecting or refusing to attend the regular parade, August 20, without lawful excuse.

Flier Killed

ST. DAVID'S, Ont. (CP)—L.A.C. Fred Smith of Atlanta, Ga., was killed today when his R.C.A.F. training plane crashed into a farm field after striking high-tension wires. St. David's is nine miles north of Niagara Falls.

Berlin Jews Tagged

BERLIN (AP)—Jewish residents appeared today wearing large yellow stars upon their left breasts for identification. Within each star was the word "Jude" (Jew).

No China Sell-out

BATAVIA, N.E.I. (AP)—Alfred Duff Cooper, British co-ordinator for the Far East, arriving here today from Singapore, declared it was not intended to work out a settlement with Japan at the expense of China.

F.D.R. Not Talking

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt said at his press conference today he had no comment to make on a story in the London Daily Express that a United States naval ship had sunk an Axis war craft.

Discounting the report, the President said he did not care to comment one way or another. He began the conference by asserting he had no news today, and for the first time in months his press conference failed to produce a single important story.

Kiev Entered Say Nazis, 'Not Decisive' Reply Russians

Associated Press

The German high command claimed tonight Nazi forces have entered Kiev and have raised the Swastika over the citadel.

Moscow admitted the Germans have penetrated as far as one gate of the Ukraine capital, but indicated the struggle had not yet reached a decisive stage.

As long ago as last July 15 the Germans claimed they were at the gates of Kiev.

The Russians said the Germans threw fresh units into the fight for the ancient Ukrainian capital, Soviet's third largest city, and succeeded in piercing Russian defence lines in one sector.

The German bulletin, announcing the Kiev victory was the third message in quick succession from Hitler's headquarters on the eastern front and claimed:

ARMIES MERGE

1. Two German army groups have merged beyond the Dnieper and Desna rivers 125 miles east of Kiev.

2. The city of Poltava, 200 miles beyond Kiev and 80 miles from Kharkov, has fallen to these forces.

3. So far in the war, on all fronts, the Russians have lost at least 3,600,000 men in dead and captured.

4. Four Russian armies have been trapped in the eastern Ukraine and now are in the "process of being annihilated."

The whole picture implied that Red army resistance in the vital southern region of grainfields, oil wells, ore deposits and war industries was tottering under the weight of a fierce German onslaught.

Kiev has important iron smelters and other works. It lies some 500 miles airline southwest of Moscow and 300 miles north of besieged Odessa.

Fighting has swirled to the north and south of it as German forces seeking to advance directly on Kiev found resistance so fierce they detoured in an effort to squeeze the city in a nutcracker.

In London authoritative sources said the Russians would be able to maintain a large army in the field even if the German threat to the Donets Basin and the industrial centre of Kharkov were carried out.

HEAVY BLOW

Acknowledging the loss of coal and oil fields, steel plants and other war industries in the Ukraine had been a heavy blow to the Soviet effort, these sources insisted nevertheless the Russians had alternative sources of supply so that these losses would not gravely curtail their resistance.

Some of these sources of supply are in the Urals, central Asia and the Moscow and Leningrad areas, it was pointed out.

In a special bulletin, Hitler's field headquarters said German army groups under Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt and Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, slashing around Kiev in a vast flanking movement, had met beyond the Desna River to trap the Russians.

Other Nazi reports claimed dive bombers had silenced the guns of Kronstadt fortresses, powerful island naval base 20 miles from Leningrad.

Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter expressed hope the populace of Leningrad, which the Germans declare to be under artillery fire as well as bombing, would negotiate for surrender of the city.

Ex-Victoria Druggist Shot Dead

A police net was spread throughout the lower mainland and Vancouver Island today for a young gunman who robbed a suburban Vancouver drugstore of $3 last night and shot and killed F. W. Fawcett, 72, the proprietor, former well-known druggist of Victoria.

Four persons provided descriptions of the bandit slayer and Vancouver police expressed belief he was a drug addict. Besides the pittance of cash snatched from the drugstore till he fled with a number of cocaine tablets.

The gunman was described as nearly six feet in height, with dark, naturally curly hair, olive complexion and unusually square jaw. He was wearing a dark blue overcoat and no hat.

Police also expressed the belief the same man might be responsible for another drug store hold-up earlier in the night in which $40 was taken.

This picture of the premeditated crime was pieced together from accounts of two 17-year-old boys who left the store just before the shooting and a man and a woman, operators of a nearby store, who were sitting in their car at the time.

The gunman appeared on the scene while Mr. Fawcett was busy with his two youthful customers. He loitered in the shadows on the opposite side of the street until they had left, then crossed over and entered the store.

Police found the cash register rifled but most of the druggist's money in a cloth sack in a dispensary at the rear. A bottle of cocaine tablets was open on its side and a package of headache tablets had been ripped open.

What occurred next no one saw, but apparently as Mr. Fawcett ran to the door to give an alarm he was shot. The bullet entered the lower part of his back and emerged near his right collarbone.

The neighboring storekeeper, who had been sitting in his car, heard the shot and saw the gunman flee. He ran to the drug store, found Mr. Fawcett lying just inside the doorway and gave the alarm.

Mr. Fawcett for years operated a drug store at the corner of King's Road and Douglas Street. In addition to Mrs. Johnson he had two other daughters, Gertrude at home, and Mrs. Margaret Norman in New Westminster.

New 'Great Wall' Building

SHANGHAI (AP)—Travelers reaching Shanghai from the Chinese interior said today a new "Great Wall" is being constructed by the Japanese army with forced Chinese labor in an effort to bar Chinese armies from eastern Hopeh and Shantung provinces.

The wall, they said, runs south from Tientsin west of the Tientsin-Nanking railroad, and a section 100 miles long already has been completed by about 100,000 Chinese workers.

They described the wall as built of earth and stones, about 18 feet high and 10 feet wide, with a dry ditch outside the passages only at long intervals.

Along the wall, they said, Japanese soldiers and Chinese villagers patrol, with each village held responsible for guarding the area bordering it.

BECAUSE A PICTURE he saw in a Los Angeles second-hand store "caught his fancy," Edward Washer, amateur art collector, borrowed $25 to buy it. No one was more surprised than he when it turned out to be a $100,000 original masterpiece by Giovanni Battista Tiepolo. Here he looks happily at a photograph of his prize.

EVERY MEAL ENDED IN MISERY

But His Indigestion Was Relieved
by Kruschen

The treatment which put this man right must surely be worth trying in every case of indigestion. Read what he says:—

"Two years ago I suffered very much from indigestion, loss of appetite, and a most severe pain in my back. Food soured in my stomach. I felt most miserable after meals, and had no desire or appetite for them. A friend advised me to try Kruschen Salts. I did so, and I am most happy to testify that after a short time I felt the greatest relief. I continued taking Kruschen till I felt myself quite better and a new man. I feel as light-hearted as I did twenty years ago."—W.B.

The several salts in Kruschen combine aid in promoting regularity and help cleanse your system each day of poisons and impurities. Millions take the "little daily dose." At all drugstores.

OTTAWA (CP)—Aloof from war is an international service—time signals—affecting every home and office and equally important to learned scientists and untutored laborer.

Dominion observatory officials said today daily international wireless time signals—one of them from Germany—are still being picked from the air to provide a scientific check on the clocks of Canada.

The signals are in conformity with international agreement and reports on their use are made to co-operating observatories. Ottawa receives daily time signals from Arlington, N.Y.; Bordeaux, France; Mone Grade, Chile; Nauem, Germany; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; and Rugby, England.

Russians Ship Factories East Of Caspian Sea

ANKARA (AP)—Ralph Ingersoll, publisher of the New York newspaper, PM, who arrived in Ankara today from Moscow, said he believed the Germans might take a few more "limited objectives" in Russia, but ultimately would be stopped.

Then a mass of American material appearing on the Russian front would be felt, he said.

He praised the Russian staff work, which he declared demonstrated its excellence by holding together a 2,000-mile line against "the most efficient army in the world."

The front is actually 200 miles deep, with fighting going on all through that distance, Ingersoll stated. He described the German panzer tactics as continually surrounding Russian forces ranging from companies to divisions, with the Russians repeatedly sitting out of the encirclement, though often losing their equipment in doing so.

MATERIAL LOSSES

Loss of material on both sides has been heavy, he said, and it is plain the issue is one of German factory production against that of the United States plus the problem of delivering American products via Vladivostok and the Trans-Siberian Railway, via Archangel, and through Persia.

The Russians are loading entire factories on trains and shipping them behind the lines to new sites east of the Caspian Sea, Ingersoll said.

Ingersoll had an hour's conversation with Premier Josef Stalin, whom he described as confident, direct-speaking and in good health.

The publisher said he went to Russia to "find out about a lot of fears" which one by one had been dissipated.

Transportation now is better than a month after war began, he said, with no sign of congestion on the railroads or on the six-lane Moscow-Smolensk highway, part of which he traversed.

There was no sign of civilian panic such as preceded the collapse of France, Ingersoll said. He found food adequate and good, "certainly in Moscow and in the army."

He rated the Moscow air-raid protection as extraordinarily good, "as good now after three months of war as London had after a year, because Moscow profited by the London experience."

$100,000 Fire At Drumheller

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP)—Drumheller and 33 other central Alberta towns, were blacked out last night by a fire in the Canadian Utilities power plant in mid-Drumheller, causing loss estimated at in excess of $100,000.

The roof of the plant was destroyed, the boiler room wrecked and some machinery burned. However, generators and turbines were saved and power was resumed just before midnight.

Towns in the blackout lay in an area roughly 15 miles from north to south and 60 miles from east to west, centring on Drumheller.

The blaze brought out most of the town's residents as fire volunteers or watchers. Shortly after the fire was noticed, power was cut off and throughout the evening, the only light in the Drumheller Valley was that cast by the flames.

Andy Duncan, engineer on the afternoon shift, discovered the blaze late in the afternoon, and called out the fire department.

No C.I.O. in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Although the Congress of Industrial Organization no longer operates in Canada some Canadian local labor unions continue to speak of themselves as affiliated with the C.I.O., Norman Dowd, secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labor said today.

This use of the term C.I.O. is annoying to officials of the Canadian Federation who think it confuses the Canadian labor picture. They say use of the term persists despite the fact the Canadian Committee for Industrial Organization, the counterpart of the C.I.O. in the United States, went out of business a year ago.

Since then, Dowd says, Canadian locals of unions which, in the United States, are affiliated with the C.I.O., have been affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Nazis Try to Control Uprisings

Canadian Press

Bombs and gunfire in rebellious outbreaks in Axis-conquered lands and the answers of firing squads have taken the lives of at least 113 persons, wounded 71 and resulted in sweeping arrests of uncounted hundreds within a week.

In Paris the situation was so grave the Germans ordered a curfew imposed for three nights in the Seine department, whose chief city is Paris, and warned the violators would be arrested and held as hostages.

Two more Communists were shot this morning for demonstrations in Paris.

Two days ago the Nazi military command warned an increasing number of hostages would be shot in any future attacks on Germans and that they would be drawn from all classes.

RESTRICTIONS

"I will no longer allow the lives of German soldiers to be threatened by murderers," said Col. Gen. Heinrich von Stulpnagel, commander of the occupation forces, as the latest restrictive measure, the curfew, was announced.

In Berlin today it was announced 18 former policemen at Poznan were executed for killing German nationals. They were held responsible for many of the asserted deaths of 672 Germans who were said to have been abducted from their homes in Poland and slain as the German army invaded that country in September, 1939.

Already 15 Frenchmen have died by the firing squad in retaliation for attacks on German soldiers. Twelve were shot this week.

Bombing and gunfire marked the continued resistance of Serbs in the mountain hamlets of Yugoslavia.

An explosion in the Zagreb, Croatia, central telephone exchange last Sunday wounded at least 12 German soldiers, one of them a major, and seven Croats.

In another section of that city Croats were attacked by four gunmen. The four were reported captured, and one of them, still clutching a hand grenade, was shot dead and left lying in the street as a warning.

At Sarajevo 61 Serbs were reported executed for such offences as firing on military patrols.

The Sarajevo-Brod railway was blown up by saboteurs and two bombs tossed at a bus wounded two German soldiers.

Trouble in France was not confined to the occupied zone. Anti-Communist courts in the Vichy-controlled area continued to grind out prison sentences, and at Marseilles one Frenchman was sentenced to death for treason. In Algiers, French Africa, two others were condemned to death on the same charge.

BOMB EXPLOSIONS

In Japanese-held Nanking and Canton, China, the 10th anniversary of the Mukden incident which sent the Japanese marching into Manchuria was marked by bomb explosions which killed more than 30 persons, some of them Japanese, at least 50 persons were injured in the blasts allegedly set off by anti-Japanese agents.

Martial law was declared in Canton, and Japanese troops rounded up hundreds of suspects. In Shanghai, gunmen recently shot and killed two men and seriously wounded two Japanese. One of the slain men was a former Chiang Kai-shek official, the other was N. A. Ivanov, chairman of the pro-Japanese White Russian emigrants' committee.

Speaking of Unrest

In Berlin five men died under the axe Tuesday, four charged with "preparation for treason," the other with espionage. Those executions in the heart of Nazi-land brought the year's total to 29 in Germany.

This week also marked the lifting of a state of civil siege in German-occupied Oslo which was imposed for exactly a week after strike movement had begun to trouble the administration. Two union leaders were executed at the outset of the period and hundreds were arrested, many being sent to concentration camps.

The Polish telegraphic agency reported today the German authorities have issued a decree abolishing Polish primary and public schools in eastern Galicia. The agency said the Poles will be permitted to have schools for professional education only and at least 60 Polish families will have to apply for permission to open such a school. Jewish schools will be banned altogether.

Taxi Cause of Train Crash

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP)—Twelve cars of the Southern Pacific luxury train, the Lark, were derailed early today when a freight train crashed into the southbound sleeper, but no one was injured seriously. The freight train engine also was derailed.

Southern Pacific officials reported the accident was caused by a taxicab which skidded at a crossing and stopped on the track in such a way it completed an electrical circuit and set the block signals which halted the Lark. It failed, however, to set signals which also would have stopped the freight train and it crashed into the Lark's parlor-observation car. The car was badly crumpled and the next to last car also was damaged.

R.A.F. RAIDS

LONDON (CP)—R.A.F. bombers dropped heavy explosives on docks at Le Havre, German-occupied French coast port, during the night, the Air Ministry said today. All planes returned safely.

Residents of the British Isles continued to enjoy their lengthy relaxation from the air war.

In extended operations yesterday, British bombers and fighter planes sank two Nazi minesweepers and two anti-aircraft ships and damaged four other vessels off the Belgian and Netherlands coast.

In another raid, bombers scored direct hits on a power station at Rouen in German-occupied France, despite heavy fire from ground batteries. Fast three-man Blenheim bombers made the attacks on the shipping and on Rouen.

Stiff opposition was encountered from Nazi planes Thursday and the whine of aerial dogfights was heard along the British coast. The R.A.F. destroyed 17 planes and lost 11, including two bombers. Two British fighter pilots were rescued after their planes crashed.

HELPING HITLER?

VANCOUVER (CP)—City comptroller Frank Jones said today Vancouver taxpayers possibly are contributing unwittingly to Hitler's war chest through Vancouver bearer bonds seized in the fall of France, Belgium, the Netherlands and other countries.

The comptroller said the fact bearer bonds are not registered in the name of the owner gives the Nazis an opportunity to clip the coupons and send them out of Europe through Spain to be cashed in the United States.

He said life insurance companies have asked the city council to obtain power from the Legislature to cancel sterling bonds payable in London and re-issue to them bonds payable in Canada. The proposal will be discussed at the forthcoming meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs next week.

Tag Tomorrow For Seamen's Home

Taggers will be on the street corners tomorrow to solicit help for the work of the Connaught Seamen's Institute, Superior Street. This pioneer club has for many years carried on an invaluable work among the seamen who call at this port, providing them with comfortable beds, recreation facilities, warm clothing and other comforts.

Owing to the war the grants provided from sources in Britain towards the maintenance of the institute ceased some time ago, making the financial situation a crucial one, but the local committee has carried on the work with marked success in spite of the handicap. Sick sailors and their families are visited and helped, woolen goods sent to seamen overseas and in a thousand and one ways the institute looks after the needs of visiting seamen.

Headquarters for the tag day will be at the I.O.D.E. rooms, Union Building, Mrs. F. Mackenzie in charge, while in Oak Bay the headquarters will be at the Oak Bay Tailor's, next the post office.

Nazi Embassy Bombed, Stoned

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Two small bombs were thrown today in front of the fashionable embassy residence of German Ambassador Edmund von Therman during a hostile demonstration.

Von Therman has been the object of a Congressional attack which reached a virtual demand for his expulsion from Argentina for alleged abuse of his diplomatic privileges.

Police made one arrest and dispersed a group of about 20 persons after extra police had been called out to suppress the disturbance shortly after midnight.

No damage was done the building other than stains left by a tar bomb thrown by demonstrators. Stones were also flung at the embassy while a small fire bomb exploded about 500 feet away.

Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, formerly German consul-general at San Francisco, boarded the Japanese cargo boat Manila Maru to sail for the Far East this morning.

Von Therman and several members of the German embassy staff went down to see him off.

Von Therman said no damage was done by last night's demonstration and "I did not even wake up."

Aerial Front Now in France

OTTAWA (CP)—Although the air front in the west has been pushed back from around the Thames River to some 50 miles inland from the French coast, air fighting is still sharp, two veteran Canadian fliers returned from long service overseas said today.

They are Wing-Commander Gordon Roy McGregor, former officer commanding No. 1 Canadian fighter squadron, and Sqdn.-Leader A. Dean Nesbitt who serves in that unit. Both are from Montreal.

"I haven't noticed it," remarked McGregor when asked if it were true the Germans were putting up less opposition to R.A.F. operations over occupied territory.

"The fact is the front has moved back," he added. "That couldn't have happened without the relative strength of the two sides having changed. What either side could do if it came to an all-out fight I couldn't say."

"A year ago," said Nesbitt, "one couldn't fly over southern England without bumping into an enemy fighter." Now there were none and one had to go to France to find them. The only enemy planes coming over Britain were single bombers.

Both fliers hold the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Argentina Leads Way In Anti-Nazi Front

By JOHN LEAR

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Hitler's representative in Argentina, South America's most influential nation, has been invited to go home.

That is the No. 1 sign as to how South America feels today about Nazism.

The Argentine Chamber of Deputies this week adopted by a vote of 79 to 1 a resolution censuring Ambassador Edmond von Therman "for overstepping the functions of his office." It also requested the government to deport leaders of German organizations engaged in Nazi activities.

This action of the Argentine chamber, which followed accusations against Nazi activities by the Argentine committee investigating subversive activities, had significance not only in Argentina but also in neighboring nations which traditionally look to Buenos Aires for guidance.

PAYMASTER

What the Argentine chamber committee had previously said to Von Therman covered more territory than Argentina; he was accused of being at least the paymaster of an organization sprawling all over Latin America, organized army-fashion, sworn to support Hitler and strong enough to enforce not just discipline but what the Argentine committee termed "blackmail."

In the reports it has submitted to date the committee included documents as evidence to show the Nazi organization it is trying to smash in Argentina is connected directly across South American frontiers and indirectly through Berlin with five of the nine other countries on this continent.

Nazi political propaganda money comes from Berlin into Buenos Aires through German banks in Uruguay, Peru and Chile, the committee said, and goes out "all over America especially that part of America which speaks Spanish."

Inside Argentina, the committee said the Nazi machine shaped up this way:

"Sixty thousand men—practically the entire German-born male population of Argentina—each was registered by name, number and photograph in Buenos Aires and Berlin. The men were organized by tens into 'cells,' responsible to an 11th man who was designated as "cell leader."

Unspecified number of these cells were organized into "blocks"—responsible to a block leader.

There was a "special corps of 'storm troopers' and a special 'secret police,' as well as a tax-collecting squad named by Von Therman personally to deduct from the workers' pay cheques, in advance, an assessment up to one-third of their salaries to support the Nazi organization.

Argentine-born sons of Germans also were catalogued as friendly or unfriendly to the Nazi regime, one committee report said, adding that a spy system was maintained to keep members in line, and that punishments were meted out to those who strayed.

Some money contributed by these organizations was traced by the investigating committee to the German-subsidized, so-called news agency, Transocean. Other money went to German schools, where the committee charges Argentine as well as German children were taught Nazi doctrines.

Courage, Hope For Cancer Victims

VANCOUVER (CP)—There is no specific drug that will cure cancer, but surgery, X-ray and radium offer hope, courage and new life to thousands of sufferers of the disease, Dr. C. K. P. Henry, professor of surgery at McGill University, Montreal, and a cancer expert, told the annual meeting of the B.C. Cancer Foundation here.

Improved weapons for fighting cancer have appeared very recently, he said, particularly devices for concentrating radium rays on cancerous tissue without allowing the rays to reach adjacent, normal human tissue.

Such things, he said, were "offensive" weapons against the disease. There were also the "defensive" weapons, which Dr. Henry listed as public education and training of medical and dental practitioners to spot symptoms of cancer. He said students at McGill dentistry school were being taught to detect early signs of mouth cancer so that doctors might attack the disease in its early stages.

YOUNG AS EVER in spirits is Gen. John J. Pershing, United States commander of World War days. He's now 81 and this new picture was taken last week.

Planes, Beans, Peanuts, Hams Arrive From U.S.

By EDDY GILMORE

A BRITISH PORT (AP)—Disgorge in the last few days on the docks of this port was a truly all-American cargo of everything from California planes to Georgia peanuts—part of $50,000 tons of supplies which, officials say, are arriving every week in Britain.

To a Selma, Ala., boy watching it unload it was like old home week.

"Hey you guys!" sang out Arch Masterson of Hollywood, superintendent of plane unloading. "Watch that plane!"

The plane was a grease-smeared Douglas attack bomber from Santa Monica, Cal., which Britons call a "Boston." At least a half dozen others were coming off the ship.

"I have been here for three years unloading these babies," said Masterson. "They are beginning to roll now."

TWO AN HOUR

Masterson said the R.A.F. gets the planes into the air three days after he unloads them. He can unload two an hour, he said.

At the next wharf sweating workers were tackling food, wide-eyed and smacking their lips at what passed through their hands. The first lot consisted of big sacks of beans from Hansen, Idaho.

"Lots of soup there, mate," grinned a grimy docker.

There was a rumble as men rolled off tubs from Chicago stamped "Wisconsin brand" cheese.

Another ship, its decks packed high, showed full bright brown cartons bearing the label "seedless raisins from Fresno, Cal."

At the edge of the docks lay a broken bag of Georgia peanuts. I picked up one and got ready to flip it into my mouth.

"Wait!" warned Col. J. J. Llewellyn, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of War Transport. "The penalty for looting is death."

I put the goober down. An electric-driven truck whizzed by packed high with another kind of carton—"citrus fruit from Lake Wales, Fla."

Atop this big pile of boxes a docker rubbed his stomach and smiled. He sat on white pine boxes marked "skinned hams, Chicago."

Behind a pile of more beans stood a green, United States-made ambulance. "Gift from the people of Milford, Conn."

Grunting dockers were handling bigger boxes at another wharf, bearing the stamp "machine tools, Michigan City, Ind."

Big white boxes with blue designs said "aircraft parts, New Haven, Conn."

The Ministry of War Transport said that lease-lend cargoes and other imports had been landed at the 850,000 tons weekly rate for the last 10 weeks. The ministry said there had been a big speed-up to a quicker "turn-around" of ships.

Urges Police Be Prepared For Post-war

WINNIPEG (CP)—Marcel Gaboury of Montreal, director of the Quebec provincial police, urges police forces in Canada to be ready for possible post-war unrest that may come from social and economic changes.

"Social and economic unrest is merely dormant," he told delegates at the annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

After the war many men now overseas do not propose to lay down their arms at march the streets in search of work, he said. "Labor leaders have told me that if the government can spend millions on war it can do so during peace."

Speaking of Communism, Mr. Gaboury said "Communists are not out in the open," and charged "they hit below the belt, as to them any means, fair or foul, is justified if it helps attain their ends."

The police are concerned when Communists try to organize intrigue and cause disorder," he said.

"Their job is to exploit empty stomachs, which in many cases means empty heads too. They exploit the freedom of the press to attack the very authority that gives them privilege to speak... they bite the hand that feeds them."

Mr. Gaboury criticized what he said are "rocking chair intellectuals" who support communist doctrines.

He urged employers to study what was going on in their own plants, organize counter-espionage systems, so that action could be taken to prevent trouble.

He made two recommendations to public forces in the Dominion, urging them to agitate the public and organize counter-espionage

Rely On The Bank's Established Machinery

Of all the vital reasons, for foreign exchange control in war-time, the most important is to enable our Government to do its financing on an orderly basis and at lowest cost.

Our Government issues the orders; our banks execute them. (From September 1939 to January 1941, the Foreign Exchange Control Board issued to the banks 234 letters of regulations, rulings and instructions.)

The chartered bank is the agent through which the complicated work is done. On the Bank falls the detail burden of applying the necessarily numerous rules to the necessarily different individual cases.

On The Eastern Front

OBSERVERS IN LONDON ARE frankly worried over the new successes which Hitler's Wehrmacht has scored in the Ukraine in the last week or so. But if only a part of what has been said and written about Russia's industrial reserves far beyond the present battle-line is true, the encirclement or capture of Kiev and the isolation of the Crimea should be regarded as a heavy blow, not as an irreparable disaster. Even the armies of the Czar, badly led and politically befuddled as they were, sustained devastating defeats, only to come back to repeat earlier successes. Stalin's men, on the other hand, are resolute citizen soldiers in the true sense of the term; they are using modern weapons, thinking clearly, and fighting for a heritage in which they have a definite personal stake. There is no parallel between present conditions on the eastern front with those which culminated in the peace of Brest-Litovsk in the early December days of 1917. The men who are defending the new Russia are the men of the revolution. The manner in which they have fought the aggressor since June 22 furnishes ample evidence of the unity of thought and purpose which animates the folk of the Republic.

How much Russia can take from the German war machine nevertheless is a question uppermost in many minds. Another "authoritative source" in London today contends that even if the industrial centre of Kharkov and the whole Donetz basin were to fall into the hands of the enemy, Stalin would still be able to maintain a large army in the field by drawing on alternative sources of supply. This obviously refers to what the Soviet Union has hidden behind the natural bastion of the Ural Mountains, a reservoir which a writer in the New York Times says will be available to Stalin's armies even if all of European Russia should fall an early prey to the Nazis. United States exporters of machine tools, oil drilling and refining machinery, rolling mill equipment and other capital goods in recent months had, according to the writer to whom we allude, only the vaguest notion as to where such supplies would be used. But, as the result of a careful appraisal of Asiatic Russia's industrial possibilities, these exporters are evidently convinced that the Soviet Union has the necessary raw materials beyond the Urals to supply practically all her military needs in a long drawn-out war, and has the nucleus of an industrial plant capable of being expanded to the point where it could process such materials into finished munitions of all kinds, and in quantities more than sufficient to meet the army's needs.

Support for the foregoing is found in the fact that Mr. Roosevelt—on later and more specific information obtained by Mr. Harry Hopkins on his recent visit to Moscow—has launched a policy of Russian aid on the assumption that Stalin's armies will still be battling Hitler's Wehrmacht next spring. Moreover, the forthcoming conference to be held in the Soviet capital between British, American and Russian officials undoubtedly will remove such misgivings as may have existed, and, by the same token, discount the suggestion that a Nazi sweep of the Ukraine and the Caucasus might result in capitulation to the enemy. Nor should it be forgotten that both Britain and Russia have eschewed the idea of a separate peace in any event. The discouraging news of the moment, therefore, should be accepted and considered in the light of facts already disclosed and, more important still, in the light of growing British and American aid to Stalin's men.

From Plan to Industry

IT IS SIGNIFICANT TO NOTE THAT those critics of the Empire Training Plan who were so voluble a few months ago appear to have reached the conclusion that a really first-class job is being done in this country for the Commonwealth's air force. They may now observe the phrase used by the Duke of Kent when he told the people of Britain what he had seen in Canada during the tour which took him to training centres in the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific. H.R.H. said: "Two years ago it was a plan; today it is a vital war industry." The royal visitor did not have to rely on hearsay; he based his remarks on the results of careful first-hand examination. He found the scheme combining "the advantages of mass production with the most skilful selection and individual training."

While no fewer than 68 training schools from coast to coast were in operation during the period of the Duke of Kent's visit, it is expected that by the end of next month at least another dozen such establishments will be added. And some idea of their activities is best reflected by the fact that during daylight hours one plane leaves the ground every 20 seconds at some of these training centres. It is estimated, incidentally, that the cost of operating the plan for the first three years would amount to approximately $824,000,000, of which Canada will supply $531,000,000—and 80 per cent of the students! In the light of what has been accomplished, therefore, it is small wonder that unintelligent criticism, if any at all, is now pitched in a minor key.

Every Day Counts

WHILE THE DOMINION DEPARTMENT of Labor has made haste slowly in applying effective means to discourage further industrial dislocation, the Order-in-Council just made public by Hon. Norman McLarty, Minister of Labor, not only declares strikes in the Dominion's war industry to be illegal, unless authorized by majority vote, but also provides for suitable penalties for failures to comply. Such stoppages of work are now contrary to law until:

1. A board of conciliation has investigated the dispute, and its findings have been delivered to both parties.
2. The employees have notified the Minister of Labor that they contemplate a strike.
3. Thereafter a vote has been taken under the supervision of the Department of Labor, subject to such provisions and restrictions as the minister may impose.
4. A majority of the employees concerned have voted in favor of a strike.

Many a walk-out, of course, has been precipitated by a snap vote after a heated discussion of the grievances involved. In several instances since the nation's war effort assumed a more intensive character it has been shown, when too late, that had more time been given to a careful consideration of all the facts and implications, not a few of those who had voted hastily might have registered their objections to drastic procedure.

In explaining the provisions of the Order-in-Council Mr. McLarty asserts that "time and time again" employees have declared they had no desire to strike but had been more or less compelled to do so because they were members of a labor organization or, for some other reason, had followed their leaders with little or no choice to do otherwise. The conditions laid down in the government's order, however, should provide a cooling-off period in which all parties to any future dispute will have ample opportunity of examining the causes in an atmosphere of reason and conciliation. The Order-in-Council, moreover, again draws special attention to the necessity of maintaining all Canada's war industries at the highest possible peak of production. Every working day lost endangers victory for the cause to which this and other parts of the empire are irrevocably committed.

Cancer Research

ALTHOUGH THE BRITISH COLUMBIA Department of Health for several years has been waging an effective war against tuberculosis and venereal disease, Hon. G. M. Weir looks forward to the time when the province will be in a position to launch as vigorous an attack on cancer. The Minister of Health voiced this hope when he spoke yesterday to the British Columbia Cancer Foundation in Vancouver.

As we have mentioned in these columns many times in recent years, the minister responsible for the safeguarding of public health has invariably found it difficult to induce the elected representatives of the people to depart for a sufficient length of time from the discussion of purely political issues to examine facts as they relate to the physical and mental well-being of the people as a whole. The whips of the various parties in the Legislature experience little difficulty in getting their respective flocks into the House when there is party capital to be made—when some road foreman or ward worker has overstepped the bounds of propriety. Such discussions are much more interesting than a dissertation on tuberculosis, cancer or venereal disease—notwithstanding the fact that the ravages of these maladies directly and seriously involve the province's economy in vital particulars.

One of these days, perhaps, even the indifferent person will agree that the most valuable asset this or any province possesses is the human asset. And, as sure as day follows night, the war's aftermath will demand health conservation as one of the cornerstones of a wholesale reconstruction program. For if safeguards for public health were required before the present conflict began, they will be required much more urgently when the full impact of the peace is felt. The old axiom that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure still holds good and will do so for all time.

If it is brutal to hurt a child with a club, is it less brutal to hurt it with ridicule?

Another thing to worry about is the fact that things we don't worry about are the ones that happen.

HEADING TOWARD INFLATION

From Toronto Globe and Mail

The federal government appears to be falling between two fires in its attempt to maintain an equitable relationship between wages and the cost of living. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just announced the sharpest monthly rise in living costs since the war started, bringing the total increase to 12.9 per cent. The index rise in June was described as unusual, and July's at 2 per cent was heavier still. October 1 is expected to bring a full 5 per cent, calling for a readjustment upward of the bonus under Order-in-Council 7440.

An intimation is given at Ottawa, moreover, that the bonus is to be made compulsory and nationwide. This, along with the acceleration of the trend, promises to make the problem more acute, for it is undeniable that wage increases affect the cost of living as surely as living costs under the regulations affect wages. Complicating the situation is the fact that in many instances the bonus given exceeds the increase in living costs.

It is not going to make for a healthful condition if the two keep chasing each other up the spiral staircase. Workers are no better off with 25 per cent more in their pay envelopes if it costs 25 per cent more to live. The trouble is that while the government is attempting to peg wages to cost of living, it is neglecting to peg living costs to wages.

DOGS

THE increasing number of pet dogs kept in our larger cities (if we must always tackle a serious problem in this department) must have some significance in our current civilization. This is not an isolated phenomenon. On every city street in America you will find more dogs now than ever before. Everybody wants a dog to lead on a chain.

Why? I have been pondering this important issue for the last hour after encountering dozens of dogs on the streets of Vancouver, each leading its master by a leash. And I have come to the conclusion that people want dogs because they admire dogs more than humans.

Dogs, as I have observed them, have all the qualities that men lack. They are friendly, they are honest, they make no pretences and they are modest. You can trust almost any dog. How many men can you trust on all occasions and against all temptations? So it is not that people want dogs because they are unlike humans, as they are. It is that people want dogs because they are like imaginary, ideal humans. Dogs are, you might say, superhumans, with all men's virtues and few of their vices.

Thus old folks who have had children and found them generally disappointing buy a dog and find him all that their children failed to be. Innumerable women keep dogs because they are more faithful than husbands, never turn to look at a blonde, never drink nor smoke nor swear and are always good-tempered at the breakfast table. Men buy dogs because almost any good dog can understand them better than a wife. Children love dogs because they are more friendly than parents.

The dog has become throughout America the model of the idealized human being. The dog, in his integrity, is what the man wants to be. The dog in his simplicity, his contentment with life, his fearlessness and clarity of mind, has something that we lost long ago in this mad world. Therefore, we turn to him, asking him for wisdom. We seldom fail to find it.

HERDS

THUS SPECULATING, I walked through Vancouver today, through the countless proliferating suburbs, where more and more people are crowding into less and less space, and I wondered what made them do it. Here we have in British Columbia a vast area of open land, capable of holding anybody who cares to occupy it, but nearly all our people live in a few large places, more than half of them in Vancouver alone. They could live much better somewhere else. They could get far more for their money, with reduced living costs, in small towns. They could have far more fun, let us say, in Duncan or Vernon, than in Vancouver, at much less labor and with much less money. But they will not go to these places if they can help it.

The economic determinants will reply that economic pressures drive people into cities. This, however, is only the surface of the problem. The deeper impulse comes from within. People want to herd together. If you gave them the chance to move out into the small places, even at higher wages, they would not take it.

This was understandable when the small places lacked communication with the outside world, lacked amusement, lacked even plumbing. Now the small town has everything to be found in the large city except the noise and the crowds. There are only half a dozen cities in America which offer that priceless attraction of "culture" which, people say, they miss in the small town. And in these half dozen places not one person in a hundred enjoys the "culture" in the least. Most folks are going to the movies or listening to the radio.

INSULAR

THEN we are told that the small town is insular, its ideas too small, and you must live in a little set which knows all your business. This is the most absurd argument of all, for the larger the city the more insular the inhabitants, the smaller the group in which he lives. In New York—and even now in Vancouver—there are so many people that you must pick out a few friends and cling to them against the milling herd.

You have no time for others. It takes you all your time, even in Vancouver, to make one date in a day, and you have to plan it a week ahead, because everyone who is successful and prosperous has all his days filled up on a calendar long in advance. Thus the city man is the most isolated man of all. The countryman or the citizen of the small town has far wider contacts and more friends.

So it is clear, from this closely-reasoned argument, that the impelling force towards the city is in the human mind. Basically it is fear. Fear which drives people together as sheep herd together at night. Fear of the unknown and fear of the open spaces. And it is my theory that the madder the world gets, the more people herd together. They see the world aflame and they rush into Vancouver. They see Hitler in Europe and they build a bungalow in Second Shaughnessy or crawl into a tiny flat on Twelfth Avenue. But they never can shut out Hitler nor anything else. Not even the radio next door.

Our chief trouble seems to be that too many people think their rights include the right to get something without earning it.

TEN TRAGIC YEARS

JUST 10 YEARS AGO Japan struck the first blow at the Armistice peace system. The invasion of Manchuria was not only the forerunner of a whole series of aggressions, but it was horribly prophetic.

The nations which had signed the Pacific Nine-power Pact and the nations which were covenanted members of the League of Nations not only failed to live up to their obligations under those treaties, but, by their failure, they issued to other potential aggressors what amounted to an invitation to get busy in other parts of the world. Thus we had Manchuria, Ethiopia, Spain, China, then all the rest of the world progressively involved.

We sowed the wind which reaped the whirlwind. Now, 10 years later, there are definite signs that peace might begin where war also began. What the world should know by now is that there can be no real peace if such is obtained at the expense of the victims of aggression.

Some of the Honolulu papers—which may or may not know what is going on—claim that the current negotiations for peace in the Pacific are based on the idea of appeasing Japan at the expense of China. Time magazine has printed a map showing a proposed basis for settlement by which Japan would obtain a large slice of China, in the northeast quarter.

It is a foregone conclusion that any attempt to make such a peace would fail.

It would fail in the first place because China would not accept it. It would fail in the second place because any British or United States government which attempted to secure acceptance of such a peace by China would forfeit—and deserve to forfeit—the confidence of its own people.

JAPAN'S CHOICE

In considering the chances for peace in the Pacific we have to remember what factors have created the situation in which even a discussion of peace is possible. They are twofold. First, in more than four years of war the Japanese have shown themselves totally unable to conquer China. It is their huge army in China that is the real prisoner. Their aggression is not even paying for itself in the coinage of piracy.

Secondly, there is a defensive line-up against Japan, which means that that nation cannot take one step further in the way of aggression without bringing into active opposition to her the naval, air and land forces of Britain, the United States, Holland, and Soviet Russia.

Japan's only remaining hope of large-scale war gains in East Asia is that Hitler should win such a complete and speedy victory over his enemies in Europe that the forces would be called home, as were the Roman legions when the barbarians struck at Italy.

Those Japanese statesmen who retain a sense of reality know that the chances of such a speedy and total Hitler victory are infinitesimal. They know, also, that in the event of hostilities the Red airforce based on Vladivostok could burn and blast entire Japanese cities in a matter of weeks. As a matter of fact, they have only two choices: They can accept a peace now on terms acceptable to China, or they can continue the war when at any moment the forces against them might be multiplied very greatly.

NOW OR NEVER

It is my personal guess that Japan could retain Indo-China and Manchuria if she were to agree to peace now—but not otherwise. The Soviet has already recognized the Japanese occupation of Manchuria and any guarantee of peace in the Pacific would necessarily include guarantees by Russia as well as other directly-interested powers.

But failure by Japan to make peace now—before the liquidation of the Hitler menace in Europe—would certainly change the whole picture. Then China would get from us so many planes and pilots that they would darken the sky.

Japan would face a hostile world, and probably defeat so disastrous that complete collapse and revolution at home would follow.

NOTHING DOUBTFUL HERE

From Winnipeg Free Press

The Country Gentleman, a Curtis publication with a very large circulation throughout the United States, continues stoutly pro-Ally in its attitude towards the war. In its latest issue it says:

"Before the fanatical madman set about destroying the world, centuries of struggle had won for men and women certain humanities and decencies of life. We want to live in the kind of world in which a continuing progress in this direction is possible. It is not possible for us alone. Recent events have proved all too well that we cannot insulate ourselves against forces and happenings abroad. No American citizen is without ample first-hand evidence of that, whether he is farming, selling merchandise or serving in the selective army. The acts of international marauders already have cut deep into our way of living, our national and personal welfare, our outlook.

"These are some of the reasons why it is timely to begin thinking and talking of the kind of world we want to live in after the war. But before anything can be done about it, Hitlerism has to be kept from winning."

There is nothing doubtful or hesitant about this, wherein it differs from some other publications bearing the same imprint.

CONTROL BECOMES PROMOTION

From Toronto Star
In the view of the Ontario government, to "control" liquor means to sell as much of it as possible. The Liquor Control Board should be called the Liquor Sale for Revenue Board.

Malan Tops List

5 British Fliers
Bag 138 Nazi Planes

LONDON (CP)—A cool-headed young South African, Wing Cmdr. A. G. Malan, holds individual scoring honors in the R.A.F. with an official tally of 32 German airplanes blasted out of the sky.

Malan, who joined the R.A.F. six years ago, has been awarded the D.S.O. and bar and the D.F.C. and bar for some of his outstanding exploits in the air. He also holds a ship's second officer's certificate.

NOTABLE ROLE

Malan's squadron, the 74th, played a notable role in the Battle of Britain last autumn and has distinguished itself in this summer's offensive sweeps across the English Channel.

Four other pilots have individual scores of more than 20, said the Air Ministry news service, issuing an impressive summary of the losses inflicted by fighter command on the Luftwaffe in two years of sky warfare. The four are believed to be Sqdn Ldr. J. Mungo Park, D.F.C., Sqdn Ldr. M. T. St. J. Pattle, Sqdn Ldr. Roland Tuck, D.S.O. and D.F.C. with two bars, and Flt. Lt. E. S. Lock, D.S.O., D.F.C. and bar. Park and Pattle, both officially listed as missing, have shot down 27 machines each. Tuck's total was 27 last July and Lock, also missing, has 25 to his credit.

The leading squadron of fighter command has accounted for 174 German aircraft since the war began. Fifteen squadrons have each topped the century mark and three of them have shot down more than 150 machines.

4,000 DESTROYED

In two years of war against the Nazis, fighter command pilots have destroyed nearly 4,000 enemy planes. British losses have been 1,400 fighters. Pilots of more than 450 of these were saved.

The figures do not include enemy aircraft destroyed by R.A.F. fighter squadrons based in France in the spring of 1940 or German machines shot down during the Norwegian campaign. Nor do they include aircraft destroyed on the ground or the hundreds of machines listed as "probably destroyed" or "damaged."

Air Casualties

MISSING

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Maynard Parslow, Edmonton, has received word her brother, Sgt. Observer Walter Cameron MacKenzie of Calgary, a member of the R.C.A.F., was reported missing overseas after air operations September 15.

PRISONER

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. A. C. Robertson has received an air mail letter from her nephew, P.O. James C. Bredin of the R.C.A.F., informing her he was a prisoner of war in Germany.

The young flier was reported missing in an R.C.A.F. casualty list September 5. His next of kin was given as his father, J. W. Bredin of Farran's Point, Ont. P.O. Bredin, 24, was born in Cereel, Alta.

PRISONER

LONDON (CP)—A German source last night said P.O. William Minto McKay of Calgary was among British airmen taken prisoners.

'America First'

Churchill, King
Called Menaces

CINCINNATI (AP)—An America First rally heard assertions last night that "two men in a boat" had "inflicted a fraud" on their peoples, and that "millions of Americans" regard Prime Minister Churchill and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada as greater menaces to the peace of the United States than Adolf Hitler.

Senator Gerald P. Nye (Republican, N.H.) made the first charge and Rev. John A. O'Brien of Notre Dame University the other.

Nye, referring to the recent meeting at sea of President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill, asserted "these two men in a boat" have inflicted upon the peoples of their countries, and particularly ours, barefaced frauds, when they undertake to make us believe that our successfully fighting the European war is going to bring freedom of the seas. It is not freedom of the seas that England wants. What England wants is what she has had for so long, namely sovereignty of the seas, domination of the seas by Great Britain.

Asserting Mr. Roosevelt is giving "the hard-earned money of American taxpayers by the bushel basket to the British" while the Irish "could not even buy... suitable arms to defend their democracy," Dr. O'Brien asked:

"Do you know, Mr. President, that millions of Americans are coming to regard Mr. Winston Churchill and his Canadian spokesmen, Mr. Mackenzie King, as greater menaces to the peace of America and to the lives of American boys than Adolf Hitler or Benito Mussolini?"

VICTORIA FIRMS

Ltd., Calgary, $9,645; Gainers Ltd., Calgary, $7,226; Canada Packers Ltd., Victoria, $6,317; Gainers Ltd., Victoria, $16,375; Pacific Meat Co., Victoria, $5,783; A. P. Slade Ltd., Victoria, $7,969; Burns & Co. Ltd., Vancouver, $12,474; Pacific Meat Co., Vancouver, $18,939; Swift Canadian Co. Ltd., Prince Rupert, $7,680. Gasoline, oil and fuel—B.C. Fuel Co. Ltd., Victoria, $6,300.

Rising Prices
To Be Checked

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley assured Canadians last night the government is determined to check the upward movement of prices which has been taking place in the Dominion, and appealed to business leaders to co-operate.

"While this is not the occasion for the announcement of specific measures," he said in an address to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention "I can assure you things will not be allowed to drift."

He outlined a four-point request to business to help in the achievement:

1. "I would ask you to shun a defeatist attitude towards rising prices. Inflation is not inevitable. It can and will be prevented."
2. "We need your active support in our savings campaigns. We are asking the public to spend less and save more. What we need to do is to reduce the pressure of excessive spending."
3. "We shall need your co-operation, your active co-operation in keeping your costs of production down. Price stability can only be achieved if costs can be held in check."
4. "We need your help in carrying out all our direct controls not only of prices but of production and the use of materials as well."

NO BUSINESS BOOM

The minister concluded his speech with a warning that the present business boom is not prosperity.

"We cannot afford either living as usual or business as usual until the war is over and victory achieved."

He gave his audience good news of the growth of federal government revenues, which "even exceed my own expectations."

"... If my new estimate of revenues is correct, these revenues will exceed the total amount of our direct war expenditures this year, and they will equal 78 per cent of our own estimated total war and nonwar expenditures for the year."

'The Bargain Bill'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leader Alben Barkley has dubbed President Roosevelt's request for an additional $5,985,000,000 of lend-lease money "the bargain bill." He explained: "I tried to get them (lend-lease officials) to make it a round $6,000,000,000, but they wouldn't do it. I bet I could have found a way of giving another $15,000,000 worth of aid."

Overalls Badge
Of Honor

ONTARIO (CP)—Overalls and hard work are "just as much a badge of honor and of service as His Majesty's uniform and a gun," Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., told workers at the National Steel Car Company and the De Havilland Aircraft Company plants. "Each one of us depends on the other. It is a grand partnership. It is a trust in which we are all parties; neither of us must ever let the other down, and thank God neither of us will."

Keynes Succeeds Stamp

LONDON (CP)—J. M. Keynes, economist, has been nominated to succeed the late Lord Stamp as a director of the Bank of England.

Montagu Norman notified the general court of the bank that he intended to remain as the bank's governor.

Fire Destroys Seiner

Destruction by fire of a 50-foot power boat at Port Washington, Pender Harbor, today was reported by Provincial Police.

The craft, a seiner, valued at about $5,000, was a total loss, being burned to the water's edge. It was owned by Alex Galloway, 1111 Jervis Street, Vancouver.

Aurora Borealis Display

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular display of aurora borealis swept the northwestern skies last night.

"Is the army testing a new searchlight?" or "Is the air force practicing a new type of night tactics?" were samples of some of the thousands of phone calls which swamped newspaper offices in many United States cities. The Hayden planetarium in New York answered calls at the rate of more than 100 an hour; city dwellers mounted to roof tops while the people who deal in communications just moaned.

For the capricious flickerings in the firmament played hob with wireless and cable connections practically around the globe and disrupted radio and telegraph service throughout much of the United States.

Teletypewriters in newspaper offices showed a disconcerting volume of garbled copy which looked something like this—xhrrpsypwm.

Dies From Burns

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Mrs. Margaret Richardson, 68-year-old Vancouver woman, died in hospital from burns and shock suffered Saturday in a fire which destroyed the home of Miss E. M. Roberts, with whom she was staying at nearby White Rock.

Mrs. Richardson was alone in the house when the fire broke out.

Spasmodically, the 300,000-mile leased wire network of the Associated Press was down—at one time for as long as two minutes—and the 10,000-mile wirephoto network over which news pictures are transmitted was upset.

Circuits of the Canadian Press leased wire system also were disrupted at times.

Major communications systems reported the magnetic storm—for such is the term scientists use to describe the apparent cause of the aurora borealis (northern lights)—struck wireless communications to and from Europe, the Far East and Latin America.

Except for cables from London, which continued to flow uninterrupted, the staff of the New York cables desk of the Associated Press had one of its quietest nights since the war began. The usual nightly communique from Moscow was delayed.

For the first time such a condition hit the trans-Pacific facilities of the Bell Telephone System.

Two passersby rushed in and pulled her out with her clothes afire.

Protection for Abbey

LONDON (CP)—Six iron and concrete tanks, with a capacity of 120,000 gallons, have been erected in Dean's Ward, to ensure water supply in case of further fire-bomb attacks on Westminster Abbey.

GREAT AIR POWER

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two high ranking United States air officials expressed belief today American air power is great enough to withstand any assault. They are Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, and Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air force.

Both refused to be quoted directly on United States air power, but were emphatic in the belief its equipment is as good as any in the world and that its personnel is superb.

'Every Man's Battle'

LONDON (CP)—The Evening News gave prominence today to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's broadcast, heading its account "Canada's Premier Appeals to U.S.A."

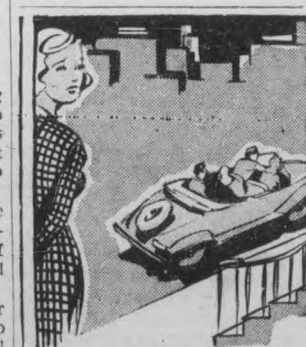

In an editorial it quoted the Canadian Prime Minister's sentence saying the free forces of the world must act as one, and added:

"It is, indeed, true that the hour has come for all free men to stand together—we fight for all the things that the best of mankind have shaped in centuries. It is every man's battle."

The general monthly meeting of the Sooke Community Association will be held in Sooke Community Hall tomorrow at 8. A benefit dance will be held under the auspices of the Sooke Community Association, Oct. 4.

Old-time Actor Dead

LONDON (CP)—John Westcott, 73, an oldtime comedian and veteran of the vaudeville circuit known to show business as Frank Karno, is dead at Parkstone, Dorsetshire. Westcott, producer of music hall turns and sponsor of road shows as well as actor, was credited by friends with having helped many young actors get their start, among them Charlie Chaplin and Stan Laurel.

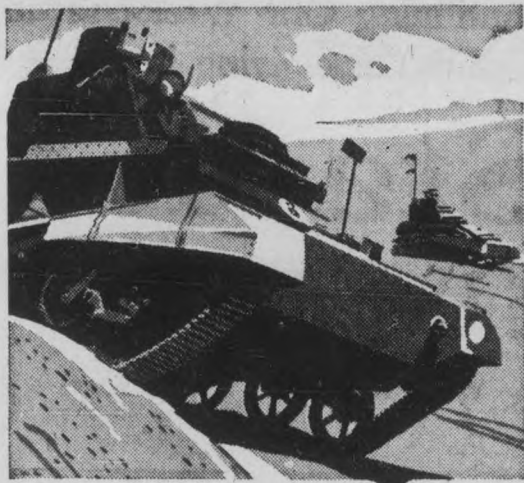

Everyone went to the dance but Sue. What is a lonesome gal to do? No one alive can escape perspiration. But Sue offended—so no invitation!

Thrifty BUILDS TANKS

Never before has individual thrift been so vital a factor in our country's history. Every dollar we can save counts in the conduct of this war.

To overwhelm the enemy and hasten a victorious peace the Empire must have a modern, smooth running, hard hitting, fighting machine. But such a machine cannot be built without individual sacrifice—self denial—thrift.

Until this war is won make personal thrift your watchword. Watch your spending. Build up a reserve of fighting dollars out of current earnings. Save for victory.

The ROYAL BANK of Canada

Sentenced to Death

DUBLIN (CP) — Sean McCaughey, described as an adjutant-general of the outlawed Irish Republican army, was convicted and sentenced to death yesterday by a military court on charges of assaulting and detaining Stephen Hayes, a former chief of staff of the I.R.A.

Evidence at the trial showed members of the I.R.A. had accused Hayes of exposing to the government secrets of the I.R.A. organization.

Hayes, kidnapped by I.R.A. members last June, according to the evidence, was beaten, tortured and bound, and eventually brought to "trial" by an outlaw court.

The evidence described McCaughey as his prosecutor.

By a new method, a pearl necklace can be X-rayed in a minute, to determine whether it is made of natural or cultured pearls.

"... the Bank Pledge way is so Simple"

1st Woman: "I was just saying to Mr. Brown, the bank manager—how convenient it is buying War Savings Certificates through the Bank Pledge Plan."

2nd Woman: "You mean arranging with your bank to take out a regular amount each month from your account to buy a War Savings Certificate?"

1st Woman: "Yes, by buying them regularly this way it's so easy, and before you know it, you've got a tidy sum saved up."

2nd Woman: "I agree—and you know it's the best way for women like you and me to help win the war."

1st Woman: "Yes—and with children growing up it's a good idea to be putting something aside anyway."

The help of every Canadian is needed for Victory. In these days of war the thoughtless selfish spender is a traitor to our war effort. A reduction in personal spending is now a vital necessity to relieve the pressure for goods, to enable more and more labour and materials to be diverted to winning the war. The all-out effort, which Canada must make, demands this self-denial of each of us.

Aluminum Drive On

H. E. Pott, volunteer in charge of the preparation for sale of metals, picking up a kettle from a portion of the aluminum received from public donations at the Langford Speedway on Saturday. The metal is made ready for sacking and then shipped east to be used in airplane construction.

The Red Cross made an urgent appeal today to the people of Greater Victoria to place all aluminum utensils they could spare on their front doorsteps tomorrow morning. Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs will collect them in a house-to-house canvass. This is part of Victoria's effort in the Dominion-wide drive for aluminum to be used for airplane construction.

Over 40 private autos have been put at the service of the B.C. Salvage Corps, in charge of the collection, and will be used to pick up aluminum from different depots and take it to the car barn at Cloverdale where the metal will be prepared for shipment. Owners of the autos have offered to drive their vehicles. Trucks have also been loaned for the drive and will deliver metal to the car-barn depot.

The Chinese population is playing its part in the drive and has built a depot at the Chinese public school where articles can be left.

Following is a list of the Victoria people who will drive their cars tomorrow to transport aluminum from outlying depots to the Cloverdale car barn.

Mrs. A. L. Darrell, Mrs. G. G. Meldram, Miss S. McCabe, Miss L. Chapman, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. H. J. Davis, Princess Chikimato, W. Glass, Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs. A. E. Page, Mrs. R. W. Hibberson, Mrs. A. F. Flucke, Miss Hayes, Lady Barnard, Mrs. M. White, S. Clark, Mrs. H. Hall, Mrs. H. M. S. Bell, Mrs. A. Murray, Mrs. H. I. MacKenzie, Mrs. H. Young, Mrs. M. Charrington, Miss M. Watson, Mrs. Lamb, S. Pickles, Mrs. A. H. Wyllie, Dr. G. Ludon, Major W. Taylor, Mrs. Bishop, R. Kershaw, Mrs. C. F. Todd, Miss Pullen, Mrs. E. K. De Beck, E. G. Snowdon, A. E. M. Williams, Mrs. H. Hacking, Mrs. F. D. Campbell, Mrs. E. Shadbolt, Mrs. G. H. Harmon, D. Hunter, Mrs. E. F. Warner and Major James Wise.

"The people of Victoria are responding to the call of the Red Cross in true British style," an official said today. "We hope to see huge piles of aluminum pots and pans at collecting depots. There will be a truck without a top and part of a bedstead for a backdoor but though it doesn't look much it would hold aluminum. There will be limousines with rugs on the seats and cartons to hold pots and pans, chauffeurs driving, women driving, businessmen driving, and the Boy Scouts working hard in our effort to de-

Children Collect Aluminum

The Salvage Corps of B.C. had a pleasant surprise recently when they were asked to call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Houston, 1233 Oscar Street, to pick up some aluminum which had been collected by their nine-year-old son, Jackie, and some of his friends. All one morning a group of seven of them called at houses in the Fairfield district and asked people if they had any aluminum articles which they could do without, and explained that the group was helping the Salvage Corps. Several cartons of metal were collected. Jackie and his friends have been collecting paper, cardboard cartons, and other material for the Red Cross war effort, and plan on making other collections.

Myrna Jenkins and Irene Morley do not appear in the above picture. Very determined Miss Lillian Houston, Jack's sister, is in front, with Glynn and Garth Jones, Basil Fox and Jackie Houston in back. Ages of the children average nine years.

feat Hitler. There will be the salvage truck and trucks that have been lent for the day to clear depots. A loud speaker in one of them operated by Mr. Pease of the Salvage Corps of B.C. will give lots of information. Mr. Freeman King will be at Scout headquarters, phone Empire 7841, in case you need his advice. Mrs. Jarvis of the aluminum committee and Mrs. A. H. Pease will be at Empire 8913 to help.

"It is not much to ask that a Saturday afternoon be given up to this work. Let's go all out. Put all the aluminum which you can find on your doorstep as early as you can and then go and have another look to find another piece. If it has not been collected by 3.30 please phone Empire 8913 or Empire 3413."

Some people have a fear of being afraid, which is a condition psychiatrists sometimes call phobia.

Plan Hospitality For R.A.F. Boys at Patricia Bay

There should be no dull weekends for the boys of the R.A.F. stationed near Victoria, when plans of the hospitality committee of the Auxiliary Services have been completed following a meeting this week with Flight-Lieutenant Pearson of Patricia Bay.

Arrangements have been made to supply the boys with personal invitations to visit in the homes of Victoria citizens, special preference being given to hospitality over the week-ends rather than during the week when it is not so easy for the boys to get leave. Hosts and hostesses are also urged to extend their invitations to include the whole week-end, that is, to ask the boy to stay over Saturday night as this would greatly alleviate transportation difficulties. The co-operation of citizens is also asked in taking the responsibility of seeing that the boys return to camp in good time, so that they do not overstay their leave which results in penalties for them.

The list of homes willing to offer such hospitality is now in charge of Mrs. Howard Archibald, 3415 Cadboro Bay Road, Empire 5096, who will be dealing directly with the camp at Patricia Bay.

In honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geoffrey Morkill of Lima, Peru, who is her guest for a few weeks, Mrs. W. L. Morkill entertained about 70 guests at the tea hour this afternoon at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. ## APPLEBY-SANDERSON

The marriage of Christina Forbes, daughter of Regimental Sergeant-Major and Mrs. A. R. Sanderson, 1417, Argyle Street, Regina, Sask., and Frederick James Appleby, A.B.S.T., R.C.N. Barracks, Esquimalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Appleby, 1404 Garnet Street, Regina, was solemnized at Christ Church Cathedral September 10 at 5.

Very Rev. S. H. Elliott, Dean of Columbia, performed the ceremony. Mr. Stanley Bulley played the bridal chorus as the bride entered the cathedral with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white sheer, with sweetheart neckline, leg-o-mutton sleeves pointed over the hand, and a floor-length full skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell over her face and was gathered at the top with orange blossoms, falling at the back to form a filmy train. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses with white wisteria and her only ornament was a gold locket of her mother's. Miss Ann Sanderson of Regina, sister of the bride, was the only bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length frock of turquoise blue sheer, with doll hat of flowers to match. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and gladioli showered with heather. Leading Seaman Ray McQueen was groomsmen.

The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Riddell, 2467 Estevan Avenue, the rooms being arranged with gladioli. Mrs. Appleby, mother of the groom, assisted the hostess in welcoming the guests, wearing a gown of navy blue sheer with accessories to match, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Refreshments were served from a table centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, with pink roses and pink tulle. Sergeant-Major E. P. Roberts proposed the toast to the bride. Out-of-town guests included Regimental Sergeant-Major Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Appleby, Mr. and Mrs. V. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. W. Hazell, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Roberts, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stevens, Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. McQueen, Mrs. E. Savin and Mrs. K. Riddell, all of Regina.

After the honeymoon trip, for which the bride left in a Queen's blue dressmaker suit with navy accessories, the young couple are making their home at 429 Parry Street, Victoria.

DAVIES-SIMPSON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Graham F. Simpson, 3329 Kingsley Street, was the scene of a wedding last night at 7.30 when Rev. Hugh A. McLeod united in marriage their eldest daughter, Helen May, to Mr. George Davies, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davies, Seattle. Only members of the family were present. Miss Rita Nevard, goddaughter of the bride, played the wedding music.

During the ceremony the bride and groom stood between baskets of Baby Royal dahlias, gladioli and Michaelmas daisies. The bride was given away by her father and wore a floor-length dress of dusty rose sheer and lace with long full sleeves, and carried a colonial bouquet of roses, carnations, stocks and heather in shades of rose and white tied with gold streamers to match her sandals. Miss Nina Nutrie, bridesmaid, was dressed in flowered georgette in shades of blue, and pink carnations and blue larkspur tied with blue ribbon composed her colonial posy. Mr. Leslie Davies, Seattle, supported his father.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Simpson received in a gown of black silk crepe with turquoise trim, a black hat, assisted by Mrs. James Cameron, sister of the bride, wearing a French blue dress with corresponding accessories. Both wore roses. The rooms were arranged with autumn flowers and the supper table was centred with the three-tier wedding cake, with pink candles in silver holders and roses in silver vases. The decorations were the handiwork of Misses Mary Mitchell and Catherine Jaffray.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson proposed the toast to the bride. During the reception Miss Carol Menzies sang, accompanied by Miss Nevard.

After a honeymoon at Port Townsend, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Davies will make their home at 7143 35th Avenue, Seattle. The bride traveled in a dark green dress with jacket trimmed with soutache braid, and a fawn tailored alpaca coat with brown velvet collar and cuffs, and accessories in green and brown. Miss Dorothy Soltan, Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. McMillan, Duncan, were guests at the wedding.

VEY-ROSS

Wearing a becoming powder blue frock of French wool crepe, with cocoa off-the-face hat and short veil, complemented by a bouquet of sweetheart roses, white carnations and white heather, Eileen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ross, Iona Drive, Mount Tolmie, became the bride last evening at 8 at St. Aidan's Church of Mr. Frederick John Ross Vey, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Vey, Coronation Avenue, Rev. T. G. Griffiths officiating.

Mrs. H. Attwell was her sister's matron of honor, choosing a star ruby wool crepe costume with air force blue hat and veil. Miss Margaret Ann Ross, another sister, was bridesmaid, wearing a beige wool crepe dressmaker suit with matching hat. Both attendants wore corsages of pink carnations. Mr. Robert Vey acted as his brother's groomsmen.

For the large reception held after the ceremony at "Rosconor," home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Ross welcomed her guests in a floor-length gown of royal blue crepe with sequin jacket and large black hat. Mrs. Vey assisted her in a formal jacket-gown of turquoise blue sheer silk crepe and a large-brimmed felt hat in capeline shape appliqued in a floral pattern. They both wore corsage bouquets of white carnations. The bride and groom stood before a fireplace banked with autumn-toned flowers and greenery and the reception rooms were filled with attractive arrangements in the same motif.

Miss Barbara Dawson, accompanied by Miss Barbara Fraser, sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Fraser later rendering several piano selections.

Supper was served at a table covered with a beautiful hand-painted Irish linen cloth and decorated with vases of carnations and lighted ivory tapers. A three-tiered cake was in the centre and this was cut by the bride following a toast proposed by her eldest brother, Mr. Thomas Ross. For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Harrison Hot Springs the bride left in a brown squirrel coat over her wedding dress with a corsage bouquet of red roses.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Vey will make their home on North Quadra Street.

Guests attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. J. Pearson of Vancouver, Miss Jean Travers of Ladner and Mr. George Browning of Duncan. Among the beautiful gifts received were a silver gravy boat, a gift of the Canadian Industries Limited office in Vancouver, and a silver jelly bowl, a gift of A. Ramsay and Co., Vancouver, both firms being business associates of the bride's father.

Colwood Women Send Help to Britain

During the past 12 months 1,996 articles, with a total weight of 1,645 pounds, have been shipped to Great Britain by the sewing group of the Colwood Women's Institute, through the Victoria Overseas League per Mrs. A. G. McDonald.

This was the gratifying report presented by the secretary, Mrs. B. Parker, Wednesday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the institute. The average attendance at the weekly sewing bee was 14, but during that time 109 quilts were made, the main responsibility for the quilts being taken by Mesdames F. A. Parker and R. B. Murray.

Six hundred and twenty-three articles were made from old and new material, the clever cutting and planning being the handiwork of Mrs. H. Stevens, and the garments, mostly children's, included boys' pants, girls' dresses, underwear, socks and shelter capes.

Missing only one sewing bee, during the 12 months, almost perfect attendance was attained by Mesdames J. Hopwood, E. Wishart, F. A. Parker, R. B. Murray, S. Vallis and B. Parker.

A junior group sewing through the summer holidays had four members with a perfect attendance, Helen Vallis, Dola Hughes, Dickie and Alan Emery. As a result of their efforts a box has now gone forward and contained five quilts, 15 assorted garments, seven toys (mended and painted), 23 pillows, books and candy.

At Wednesday's meeting the members were told by Mrs. A. G. McDonald of the Victoria Overseas League of the large quantities of clothing still going forward and quoted from many letters from the Old Country conveying grateful thanks. Mrs. McDonald was thanked by the president, Mrs. S. M. Vallis.

Mrs. E. Emery was appointed official delegate to South Vancouver Island conference, with Mesdames R. B. Murray and E. Wishart as institute representatives.

On September 25 the monthly "pot-luck" luncheon will take place at 1 p.m. in Colwood Hall, visitors as well as members of the sewing group being welcome. An interesting letter from Miss Kelly, honorary president, was read.

Serve More Milk, Butter, Fruit In Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
The new food economy calls for more milk, more butter, more fruits, more green colored and leafy vegetables and more eggs in the diet.

Milk is nutritionally good according to the feed of the cows, for example. Green vegetables are vitamin rich according to the richness of the soil in which they were grown. "One of the greatest needs in this new campaign for family defence is basic information on nutrition for teachers and club and group leaders and others who can help put over the job of teaching the housewife the facts of modern nutrition."

Fill a round dish solidly with sliced apples. For 7 apples, mix 1/4 teaspoon salt with 1/4 cup sugar, and use to sprinkle over the layers of apple. When the dish is filled, pour 2 tablespoons molasses over the top and dot with small bits of butter. Cover the dish and set where the apples will heat through and soften—not boil—for 5 minutes. Remove cover, and cover with plain pastry. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 40 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Preaching Fascism In Internment Camp

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—President Arthur Mould of the London Trades and Labor Council said at a council meeting Adrian Arcand, leader of the outlawed Fascist party, "has built a rostrum in the (internment) camp at Petawawa and is preaching Fascism."

Mould said he had obtained the information from an international organizer of the American Federation of Labor who had visited the camp recently.

The council endorsed a resolution asking that all "anti-Fascists" be released from internment.

LADYSMITH FAIR HIT BY WEATHER

LADYSMITH — Ladysmith's annual two-day fall fair closed last night after a moderately successful session. Attendance was estimated to have dropped somewhat from the average of the past few years, with the decrease attributed largely to the wet weather.

On the whole, the fair maintained an average amount of entries in the various divisions.

In the schools' section, some notably fine work in pencil was in evidence.

The women's needlework division declined compared with other years. Women's war work efforts in the Garments for Britain and in the Red Cross local organizations were demonstrated in groups displaying examples of reconstructed materials, and the socks, helmets, sweaters and other woolen goods for the men of the services.

The entries of George Wilson again gained him the Bank of Commerce and W. W. Walkem Cups for highest honors in points. Close to him and tying with each other, J. A. Hartley and Tom Honeyman gained major credits.

Mrs. E. W. Forward was awarded the Forward Cup for flowers, while W. Wilson, Miss D. Bryant, T. Honeyman and others made notable contributions to the flower displays.

Frank Hunter, in the poultry section, gained the Grassick Cup for the best Rhode Island male.

Russia's Dnepropetrovsk power project, third largest in the world, is outranked by Grand Coulee and Boulder Dam power plants in the United States.

With the Forces

Men Wanted for Ordnance Workshop

Formation of a new ordnance workshop unit in the Canadian Army (active) has opened enlistment to 348 tradesmen specialists, Lt.-Col. H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer for MD. 11, announced today.

The new unit is the 1st Divisional section, Armored Corps, Ordnance Workshop. It will require an establishment of 10 officers and 348 noncommissioned officers and men.

Applicants for enlistment will be accepted at once at all district recruiting offices and the call is sent out for tradesmen who may qualify under category A or B. Among the trades required are: Electricians, welders (electric and acetylene), field wireless operators, carpenters, blacksmiths and tinsmiths, fitters, instrument mechanics, motor mechanics, clerks, cooks and storemen.

Vets' Guard Hears Appeal for Men

R.S.M. Jack Cleaton, 3rd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, speaking at the first anniversary dinner of the 114th Company, Veterans Guard of Canada, in Terry's dining room, appealed for new enlistments of young married men in the 3rd Battalion. He asked the veterans to help keep the young fellows at it.

He explained that the men were needed for home defence, not overseas duty. Belief in the past that reserve units would be sent overseas had interfered with enlistments, he said.

Toast to the 114th Company was proposed by Gilbert Pritchard and replied to by Major J. A. Dewar, officer commanding. Toast to the guests, R.S.M. J. Cleaton and C.S.M. J. Stouse, was proposed by Sgt. L. G. Scott and responded to by R.S.M. Cleaton. Toast to Old Comrades was proposed by Capt. A. C. Fletcher and replied to by Major G. S. Yardley, former officer commanding the unit. Lieut. T. B. Matheson spoke on behalf of the officers.

Week-end Invitations For English Airmen

Arrangements for regular week-end invitation to men of the R.A.F. have been made by the hospitality committee of the auxiliary services.

The hospitality will take the form of personal invitations to the men to visit the homes of the citizens of Victoria. Stress is given to the point that such hospitality would be appreciated at week-ends rather than during the week when it is not so easy for the men to get leave, also that where hosts and hostesses are able to extend the invitation to include the whole week-end, that is to invite a man to stay over Saturday night, this would be greatly appreciated due to transportation difficulties.

Co-operation of the citizens is asked in seeing that the men return to camp in good time so that they do not overstay their leave as this results in them being penalized.

The list of homes willing to offer such hospitality is now in the charge of Mrs. Howard Archibald, 3415 Cadboro Bay Road, telephone Empire 5096, who will deal directly with the camp at Patricia Bay. It is hoped that a similar arrangement will soon be in force for the members of the R.C.A.F.

INSTRUCTS TROOPS—Sgt. G. B. Dickson, under whose instruction soldiers are enabled to study physics, trigonometry and mathematics at Work Point Barracks, some knowledge of which is necessary for service in the Artillery, Signal and Ordnance Corps. A well-known athlete, Sergeant Dickson formerly played with James Bay Athletic Association and Victoria Reps football teams.

Robert S. Dronfield, formerly of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish, who left on Wednesday for the east, where he will go into training with R.C.A.F. as a pilot. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dronfield, 2633 Estevan Avenue, he was educated at South Park and Victoria High Schools, and is 24 years old. Prior to enlistment, he was employed by James Richardson & Son.

Canada Soldiers Built Masterpiece

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND — "Young Street," the 6,200-foot bypass which Prime Minister Mackenzie King opened when he visited the Canadian forces, is a masterpiece of road construction. Built entirely by members of a northern Ontario road construction company, it was filled in with 2,370 cubic yards of stone, 27,775 cubic yards of concrete, 1,778 cubic yards of sand, and 489 cubic yards of cement. The Canadians laid 10,000 square yards of concrete roadway and 4,900 square yards of tarmac carriageway. During a year of work they excavated 135,000 square yards of earth and stone.

Sees Trinity Of Free People

TORONTO (CP)—Voicing the faith of an "ordinary Canadian citizen who believes in Britain, Canada and the United States and hopes to see them joined together in a great trinity of free peoples," Leonard W. Brockington, K.C., said last night great principles cannot be defended by employing someone else to fight for them.

Special war-time assistant to Prime Minister King, Mr. Brockington addressed the annual banquet of the National Industrial Advertisers' Association in session here. His audience of 1,200 was comprised mostly of delegates from the United States.

"Our place in this war," he said, "is not where words are spoken but where things are done."

He predicted victory for the Allies, listing against Germany's side "the growing tide of unrest, the growing strength of the phalanx of free men, her basic inferiority of manpower and resources, her lack of seapower, the bravery of Russia, the courage of Britain, the resolution of the nations of the British Commonwealth and ever as the hope of free men and the despair of tyrants, the open-handed, strong-armed help of the United States of America."

To win, he declared, we must "mobilize the conscience of the world, fortify our own spirit, meet blood and iron with blood and iron, carry the weight of material to help the best men in the world and gather our power in all strength and strike."

Follies of the Allies side of trying to fight a gorilla under Marquess of Queensbury rules, of trying to stop the path of tanks with platitudes, attitudes and beatitudes are ended, he declared. "We had forgotten that a hottenot with a machine gun could beat the United States without one."

The ancient Egyptians fed honey cakes to the sacred crocodiles of the Nile.

Rome May Be Bombed Now That Axis Airmen Have Made Cairo a Target

CAIRO

Axis air-raiders made the first raid of the war on Cairo, capital of Egypt, killing and wounding several scores of civilians. Observers said the raid opened the way for British bombardment of Rome, since the British had previously stated that if Cairo were attacked they would feel free to retaliate on the Italian capital. Britishers now hope Rome will get a taste of what London, Coventry and Ply-

ONE OF THE VERY OUT-OF-THE-WAY JOBS now being done by the W.A.A.F. of Britain is guarding balloons, a heavy job since the balloon ropes have to be hauled smoothly and evenly to give perfect anchorage.

NINETY MILES NORTH OF SAULT STE. MARIE, on Lake Superior, stands this log camp, where 160 conscientious objectors to war are housed. Ninety per cent are Mennonites, 100 per cent attend church every Sunday, though it's voluntary. They work eight hours a day for less than seven cents an hour, and work well. The lower picture shows a group of "conchie" workers on a department of highways truck.

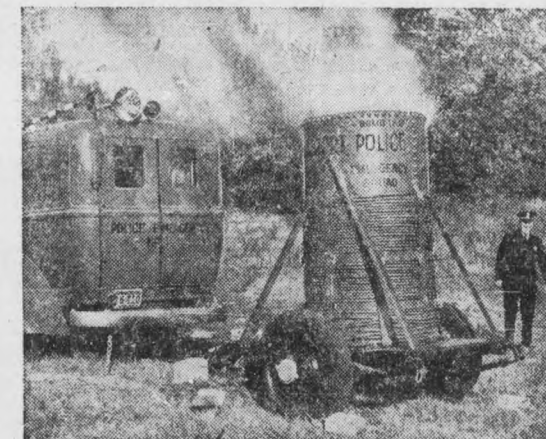

CLOTHES MAKE THE MEN ACCORDING TO POPULAR BELIEF, but these Australian soldiers at Tobruk lay little emphasis on this maxim. Dressing as they please in the scantiest and most unimpressive manner, they, nevertheless, prove themselves streamlined soldiers in action. Above, they can be seen rushing from their stone dwelling on the alarm that the enemy was attempting to take a forward position. These infantrymen and other members of their group are posted near the wire within easy range of enemy guns. They live dangerously, bringing the Italian guns from the field of battle, repairing those which need it, digging gun positions, forming gun crews of cooks, orderlies, all but artillerymen. They scavenge ammunition, and during the recent alarm they fired 1,100 rounds into the enemy's lines in the course of two hours. This for trained gunners in no mean achievement—for this scratch crew the performance was outstanding.

By MASSIE WHITE
Official Form Chart Compiler at Willows Track

VICTORIA HAS LONG been recognized as the holiday land of tired racetrackers. Two weeks here in the fall will recuperate even the most jaded of all. After putting in six weeks on the mainland and winding up battling the crowds at Hastings Park, nothing is more restful to the tired nerves than the meeting at the Willows.

In the mornings, one can find riders and agents, valets, owners and grooms, fooling around in front of the grandstand. Some will be warming up by playing ball in the paddock; others will be seen swinging a golf club in the infield; while exercise boys gallop by, whistling or clucking to a horse being blown out for the races that afternoon.

Just the other day, R. Richardson, patrol judge on the mainland, was seen sitting on the outside rail trying out a fishing rod, and all the water in sight was in a barrel. As Rich is from the prairie circuit, somebody must have told him that fish were where you found them, and he wasn't taking any chances.

The pranksters are also busy each morning. Just a few days ago, Jack Short, "Our Radio Man," came out to the track in his nice new car to look over the early birds, and while his attention was drawn elsewhere, the lads hooked up one of those car bombs. When Jack loaded up with his passengers to go home and turned on the ignition, the thing started to whistle, then an explosion took place under the hood and smoke poured from everywhere. Take it from me, all exits were working in nothing flat. This same stunt was pulled on Jockey Augie Sylvester the following morning, and he sure came out a-runnin'. Augie said he thought that some better had lost a wager on some horse he had been riding and was getting even.

On Sundays the boys have many diversions. For those following in the footsteps of Isaac Walton, the bays and lakes surrounding Victoria provide the best in salmon or trout fishing. Others take advantage of the grouse and deer season opening and go out after game. None can be classified as a raw hand at either sport.

The golf bugs take advantage of the beautiful golf courses and many of them play throughout the whole day, not giving up the ghost until darkness forces them to pick up and sojourn to the clubhouse.

In the evenings, naturally, everyone sits around and goes back over the old days. Tiajuana, Colwood Park, and many other tracks are mentioned, and lots of tall tales come out of those meetings.

Doc McKeon goes back to the days when they raced around here in 1909, and to the tracks around Chicago, where he attended veterinary school.

Earle Lewis talks of the days when he was associated with his dad, racing "Blondy" and "Pride of Lismore," as well as others well known throughout the west coast and eastern Canadian circuits.

Clay Puett, our efficient and likeable starter, harkens back to the day when he rode relay races for Cowboy C. B. Irwin, with such horses as "Grayson," "Abadane," "Harry D." and many others, traveling around shooting for $1,000 pots.

Jack Short, whose voice is carried over the British Columbia ether waves to many thousands of horse followers, likes to look back to the days when he raced "Mary Dear" around these parts with George Asher Lamb as his partner.

Even yours truly had feed bills to pay on a few, among them my favorite "Irish Jury," now owned by a lovely little lady who comes to Victoria each fall from her home in Oregon, and who tells me that "Jury" has a couple of foals at her side by the good sire "Mio D'Arezzo," and I can assure you that I am looking forward to the day when they go to the races, and hoping they turn out to be "Midlands."

When things are settled "across the pond," I only hope that someone may see their way clear to reopen the old Colwood Park track, as many memories remain with the old timers of racing in these parts and many acquaintances would certainly be renewed.

Horse Races

Finish Thriller

West Bros.' Broderick, a gelding by Dolan out of Galea, won the most thrilling race of the Willows meeting when he scored a neck decision in the third event over the mile route.

Jockey Alex Haller poked the gelding's neck out from among six horses thundering past the wire like a cavalry charge. Blore Heath was right with him for second and on his heels were Arabian Love and Maizie B, which dead-heated for the show. Shasta Chub and Virgilia were over there, too, at the finish and any one of the field might have won with different racing luck.

The race was like that from start to finish and none of the field was able to get clear for long. Eight horses rounded into the stretch almost together and it was only in the drive to the wire that Kaywood, the pacer-maker, and Mortgage Lifter dropped out of it.

Photos were necessary to decide all three places. Broderick, a 9 to 2 shot, was the second half of the daily double. First half was Highland Stock Farm's Leba Trebor, one of the hard luck horses of the year, which turned out to be the shortest price winner of the meeting. The colt started at odds of less than 1 to 4. Leba Trebor broke his maiden in winning the race. During the season he has run many bang up races but was never able to get home in front. Last week he was entered in an easy spot and backed down to a 1 to 2 favorite, but had the misfortune to fall going around the clubhouse turn. Jockey Jack Bailey, who got a shaking up in that spill, made no mistakes yesterday and had the colt in hand all the way.

The one-two event in the fifth race returned the attractive price of $79.70 when H. G. Leggett's My Debut, a 15 to 1 shot, held on for the place behind Golden Somers. My Debut got the call in a photo finish with Cisco Kid, the even-money favorite.

The quinnella in the seventh posted $55.55 when Eagle Crest, at nearly 9 to 1, scored a neck decision over Ascot Watch.

Prices throughout the day were good. Happy Returns, winner of the first was 7 to 1. H. M. Fullerton's Cache Creek defeated D. C. Macfarlane's Truly Flo in the fourth and returned 13 to 2. Golden Somers was 4 to 1 and Mabel I, winner of the sixth was better than 5 to 1.

The only favorite to score was Leba Trebor.

Colt Donated to Aid Mayor's Fund

Mayor McGavin today has a two-year-old colt to be disposed of in aid of the Lord Mayor's Fund for British air raid victims. It was announced yesterday that Frank Behan of Nanaimo, one of the leading island breeders, had made the donation.

When questioned today Mayor McGavin stated he had not decided on just how the colt would be disposed of but thought it would be best to hold a public auction or a drawing.

The colt, as yet unnamed, has been nominated for next year's running of the British Columbia Futurity.

LOUISVILLE WINS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Louisville Colonels finally put over the clincher in the sixth round of the American Association playoff series here yesterday, defeating Minneapolis Millers 7 to 1.

The victory sent the Colonels on to Columbus, where they open the final series tonight. Louisville won four games to Minneapolis' two.

Hunter Drives His Trophies

Modern charioteer Albert Vallancourt, French-Canadian, of Chelmsford, Ont., hitches high-stepping moose to buggy and goes places. Vallancourt and a companion, combing the woods for wolves, heard the bleat of a young moose. They found a bear attacking the infant. Vallancourt's shot made a rug of the bear. Several months later a boy offered a playmate for Vallancourt's moose. Vallancourt's moose have outrun every horse in the region. He claims they can beat all harness racing records made by horses. Albert Vallancourt uses red and white checked coats on his team when the moose hunting season opens.

Skating Club Will Reorganize

When the Victoria Arena was destroyed by fire 12 years ago the Victoria Skating Club had to suspend its activities indefinitely.

For some years it had provided an outlet for the energies of a large number of enthusiasts for figure skating and ice walking. Now with the opening of the new rink the executive of the old club are planning to revive the organization. They have called a meeting for September 22, at 8, in Room 214, Pemberton Building.

Notices have been sent to all those of the old members and the executive will welcome the attendance of all residents and members of the services who are already figure skaters or wish to learn. Plans for the season will be discussed and the executive are confident that the necessary support will be received to enable them to arrange with the arena management for the exclusive use of the ice for two or three sessions a week.

Pending the election of officers for the season the president of the club is still Major A. G. Piddington, telephone Empire 3440, and the acting secretary T. J. Goodlake, Empire 8861, either of whom will be glad to give further information.

THISTLES PRACTICE

A workout of the Saanich Thistles soccer team will be held at lower Central Park, Sunday morning at 10.30.

Grizzlies on Spot

Meet Riders at Home

REGINA (CP)—Bogged down on muddy and sloppy fields for three successive games, Western Interprovincial Union footballers were cheered today with promise of firm footing tonight when Regina Roughriders entertain Vancouver Grizzlies.

Weather in Regina is hot and windy and the gridiron is fast as lightning. The field is on the hard side, but even that is acceptable to the gridders after their experiences in the mud at Vancouver and Winnipeg.

It will be the first game of a hurried four-game prairie invasion by the new Grizzlies and the league lead is at stake. All three teams are tied at present with two points.

Usually cautious with his pregame predictions, Coach Dean Griffing of the Riders was roaring defiance at the Grizzlies when he brought his squad home from Vancouver.

"The illegal blocking on Monday night (when Regina lost 7 to 6) was terrible," he complained. "That and a little over-confidence in our camp caused the defeat. But we will take Kabat's crew tonight. Don't worry about that. I think our attack will really click on fast footing."

HAVE LIME BURNS

Roughriders will take the field at full strength although Griffing and Omer Springstein are suffering from lime burns. The field at Vancouver was marked with lime and when the rain fell it turned out to be a potent mixture. "Grizzlies are the sort of a team nobody can fool around with," chanted the Roughriders' youngsters, "but if we go out and play 60-minute football we can handle them."

The Vancouver club arrived in charge of Greg Kabat, the ex-Winnipeg favorite. Kabat is pointing for this game, because he must hike off to Winnipeg with his team for two games next week, then return to Regina to play the fourth game in eight

Much Fight Interest

Louis Slim Choice

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Jacobs' ticket office these days is a quiet little place, cosy as the Times Square subway station around 5, which is no place for a man with a nervous breakdown.

The advance sale for the Joe Louis-Nova party in the Polo Grounds a week from Monday is even pleasing Mike, which is quite an accomplishment. Jacobs' office reports there is more than $200,000 in ticket orders in the till already, and the mailmen are groaning under new bagsful at every delivery.

Ticket orders from 45 states have been received, with the Montana, Arizona and Arkansas precincts still to report. This means that there are a lot of folks

Junior Boxla Finals Tonight

British Columbia junior and juvenile A championship box lacrosse playoffs will open tonight at the Sports Centre.

In the junior final, McLean's Bakery of Victoria will stack up against Young Adanacs, mainland titleholders who eliminated Richmond in their own playoff. McLean's were unbeaten in local competition and have one of the smoothest combinations to ever step on a local floor.

Reports from the mainland are that Adanacs, strengthened by inclusion of a couple of good boys from Pitt Meadows, are a fast-running and fast-passing crew.

Foul Bay, local juvenile A winners, are slated to go up against McKenzie Barge team. The Vancouver team, coached by Ed Jenkinson, a former Bluebird player, has faced stiff opposition through the season and have some comers in their line-up. The Foul Bay outfit have a speedy outfit that passes the ball well and can really score goals.

First game will get started at 7.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

Members of the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club will hold a shoot Sunday at the Albert Head Road grounds. Shooting will commence at 1.30, with guns and ammunition available at the grounds.

Durocher Chased by Umpires

If Brooklyn Dodgers don't win the National League pennant maybe they will go after Joe Louis' heavyweight championship.

They took their minds off baseball long enough yesterday to lose a critical game to Pittsburgh Pirates 6 to 5 and they also lost their preliminary venture into the heavyweight class to Umpire George Magerkurth, a man mountain weighing about 225 pounds and six feet four inches tall.

But the fates which protect little children and the Dodgers saw them through their hours of travail once again by bringing Boston Braves a 4 to 1 victory over St. Louis Cardinals. This kept Brooklyn in front by one game.

The rumpus at Pittsburgh was one of those wild sideshows for which the delirious Dodgers have become famous.

The game was tense all the way, with the Pirates hopping on Fred Fitzsimmons, their old nemesis, for four runs in the fourth inning and Johnny Lanning holding the Dodgers to two singles for seven scoreless innings.

There was a rumbling of trouble in the seventh when Larry French, who had relieved Fitz, hit Frank Gustine with a pitch and Gustine threw his bat at the pitcher. But the volcano really erupted in the eighth.

The Dodgers dug up five runs in a breath-taking rally after two were out in their half of the inning and then set out to hold their 5 to 4 lead.

Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin went to the mound and gave a single to the batter, Vince DiMaggio, who reached second as Joe Medwick fumbled the ball. Big, Chubby Hugh Casey was rushed to the mound and got the next two men out, with DiMaggio moving to third. He also got two strikes on the next batter, Al Lopez.

Then he committed a balk and Umpire Magerkurth waved DiMaggio home with the tying run. There was a mass protest by the Dodgers which lasted for five minutes and then subsided.

Casey was infuriated, however, and threw the next three balls over the heads of Magerkurth, Lopez and his own catcher, Mickey Owen. No one could tell whether he was throwing at somebody, or just throwing off his fury. But Magerkurth went out to the mound and told him, "You can't make a travesty out of this ball game."

Durocher rushed between the two, shoved Casey out of the way and stormed at the top of his lungs at Magerkurth interfering with his piteers and his language was what the umpire later modestly termed "bitter." Finally Magerkurth ordered the manager out of the game. Casey walked Lopez, Alf Anderson tripped and a potential Brooklyn victory flew through the pearly gates.

The feud with Magerkurth continued under the stands after the game until tough little Bill Stewart, whose pugnaciousness is respected by even the battling Bronks, broke up the wrangling. Durocher broke up some chairs and odds and ends after he got to the dressing room.

What did do them some good was Boston's beating the Cards. Frank Demaree got his only hit of the series at St. Louis in the first inning—a home run with two on—and Gene Moore clouted another with the bases empty in the sixth. With this backing Manny Salvo held the Cards to six hits and won easily.

Sacramento to snatch back the lead it once held by a 16-game margin, must win all its four remaining games.

Sacramento stayed in the race last night by edging Oakland, 2 to 0, behind rookie Blix Donnelly's eight-hit pitching.

Exchequer Court Hears Land Case

The claim of Hunter Miller for greater compensation for waterfront property near Rocky Point taken over by federal authorities for national defence purposes came before the Exchequer Court of Canada here today as Mr. Justice A. K. Maclean, president of the court, opened his Victoria sitting.

Mr. Miller asks $7,600 for the property and for damages sustained by other adjacent holdings which, he contends, have deteriorated in value owing to defence development there.

The crown suggests $1,666.10 as a fair price.

H. W. Davey, appearing for Mr. Miller, outlined the arrangements made for taking over the land, a parcel included in a tract Miller bought in 1928 for $13,000 and on which he erected $26,000 buildings, paying another $7,000 for fencing and drainage.

Acquisition by the government of a section known as Church Hill, and use of a right of way road through another section had destroyed the possibility of selling the property as estate sites and reduced it to land saleable only as farms, Mr. Davey contended. He alleged Mr. Miller would lose $17,000 by the change but, having previously said he would accept $6,000 for the smaller parcel in question, would restrict his claim to the lower amount.

Harold Beckwith, for the crown, submitted plans of the area as the case opened.

It continued this afternoon.

OAK BAY OFFERS $9,241 FOR WATER

A cheque for $9,241.28 was forwarded by Oak Bay to the city today for water supplied the municipality during the year.

The payment was made without prejudice and represented the sum due, according to Oak Bay computations, on the basis of a 6.75 cent per 1,000 gallon rate.

That rate was thrown out by the Court of Appeal this year and establishment of a new figure was ordered.

MAY PUT CASING IN DRILL HOLE

Installation of casing in the hole being drilled for the government at Commotion Creek in the Peace River in a search for oil is being discussed here today by M. Newell of Newell and Chandler, the contractors, and Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines.

Meanwhile drilling operations at the site have been suspended temporarily while the boilers are being repaired, the minister said. There are also transportation difficulties.

The minister said the contractors feel that installation of the casing at the present time will facilitate drilling.

It is understood a decision to put down the casing may require some revision of the drilling contract.

The drill hole is now down near the 6,000-foot level. It is clear of the old hole, which became plugged last fall when a drill was lost, and, up to the present suspension, has been proceeding satisfactorily, Mr. Asselstine said.

Margaret Sullivan Here

Blonde Movie Star Likes Crosswords

"What's a long word for a place of amusement beginning with T?"

"Theatre."

"That's it, bully for you — it never occurred to me."

"But that's not a long word."

"Anyhow, it's the one that fits exactly."

"You seem to be good at cross-words."

"What's another word for sit-tings—settings? No, that's not the one."

"Sessions?" "Goodness, right again. Here, you work it out."

The dialogue was between Margaret Sullivan, husky-voiced blonde motion picture star, and a reporter of the Times, while the actress and her husband were seated in their car at the Canadian Pacific docks waiting to board the ferry Iroquois for Port Angeles and Seattle.

Obsessive of everything else, Miss Sullivan bent over the newspaper, her forehead puckered, lips pursed, diligently working out the crossword puzzle.

Unhindered, Miss Sullivan and her husband came to town yesterday, crossing the gulf from Vancouver to Nanaimo and motoring down the Island Highway to Victoria.

Her husband is Leland Haywood, motion picture agent.

They spent the night at the Empress Hotel, sought privacy, kept pretty much to themselves, but were soon recognized.

NOT PESTERED

"We don't care, now we are going away," they chorused. "We have heard that Victoria is unique in one respect. The people here are not in the habit of pestering Hollywood visitors."

"You can be assured," said Miss Sullivan, "such considerate treatment is appreciated."

Dressed comfortably, dark brown shirt, tawn slacks, white ankle-socks, brogues, topped by a light grey overall coat, Miss Sullivan talked freely.

She appeared impatient waiting for the boat, but smiled engagingly when she was handed an immigration card by the U.S. inspector with the request that it be filled out.

"How do I sign this?" the actress appealed to her spouse, Margaret Haywood or Mrs. Leland Haywood?

Of pictures, Miss Sullivan was not keen to talk.

She said she had just finished a picture with Charles Boyer for Universal and was taking a month's holiday. The production, she added, has yet to be titled.

Saanich Water Vote Tomorrow

Property owners of Saanich will journey to polling stations in seven wards Saturday to vote on a $350,000 by-law to provide a reservoir and extend service lines.

Voting will start at 8 in the morning and close at 8 in the evening.

The ballot lists the name and number of the by-law and asks the question "Shall the above by-law be confirmed?"

Property owners of Ward 1 will vote at Cedar Hill School and others will exercise the franchise as follows: Ward 2, Tolmie School; Ward 3, Gordon Head School; Ward 4, Marigold Hall; Ward 5, Royal Oak School; Ward 6, Keating Temperance Hall, and Ward 7, Tillicum School.

Facial cuts and bruises were suffered by George Wagstaff, 1400 Hillside Avenue, Thursday afternoon when his bicycle collided with a car driven by James Mullard, 3107 Shelbourne Street, at Hillside Avenue and Fernwood Road.

The dramatic war play of Miss Rachel Reynolds of Vancouver, a member of the Provincial Drama Association, "Until Charlot Comes Home," has been awarded first prize in the Stanford University contest of 1941, in which 276 plays competed.

Saanich Names Schoolteachers

Miss L. Adams and W. B. Dixon were appointed to fill vacancies on the elementary school staffs and P. B. Bennett was added to the staff of Mount View High School at a meeting of the Saanich School Board Wednesday evening.

L. R. McAdams was named secretary of the school board subject to three months' probation.

A plan, submitted by Principles C. A. Mitchell and E. G. Woodward, covering the reallocation of elementary school pupils to relieve overcrowding was approved by the trustees. To aid the solving of this problem an additional room will be opened at each of Strawberry Vale and Tolmie schools. Chairman M. W. Dawson emphasized that the school board was making moves in the children's interest because of a sharp increase in the number of pupils enrolled in Saanich schools this year.

A letter from the Prospect Lake Parent-Teacher Association, complaining of motorists speeding in the vicinity of the school, was referred to the Saanich Police Department for action. Mr. Dawson told the meeting that prompt action would follow similar complaints from any school in the municipality.

WILL BUILD ROAD TO GOLD STRIKE

The provincial government will co-operate in construction of a caterpillar road into the scene of the new gold strike on Blue Creek in the Yalakom Country, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, announced today.

Mr. Asselstine said an initial appropriation of $7,500 has been made toward the work which will be carried out in conjunction with Balorne Gold Mines. Balorne has acquired large holdings in the new territory.

The work is part of the government's mining trail construction program to assist in opening up new mining areas.

The road will go from the end of the present trail at Moha into the scene of the strike, some 20 miles.

Recently Dr. M. S. Hedley reported for the Mines Department that the new strike warranted exploration and development.

Britain to Get Italian Ms. Leme

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Italian ship Leme, a combination passenger-cargo vessel of 8,059 gross tons, shortly will be turned over to Britain under the Lend-Lease Act, it was reported today.

It would be the first of the laid-up foreign vessels requisitioned by this country to go to the British Ministry of War Transport.

So far the Maritime Commission has requisitioned approximately 60 foreign vessels. All of them which have been placed in service fly the United States or Panama flag.

The Leme was taken over by the commission July 25 at Portland, Ore. Commission officials said today that the vessel now is being repaired, but that it had not yet been formally allocated.

The Leme was formerly operated between Italy and British Columbia ports via the Panama Canal.

Nanaimo Petitions For Shipbuilding

NANAIMO — Nanaimo industrial committee last night, with Chairman Mayor V. B. Harrison presiding, decided to petition the Dominion government to have proposed Nanaimo and Ladysmith shipbuilding sites examined by an expert to determine which is the better location to build ships to help unemployment and the war effort.

Action was taken following expressions of indignation and surprise by members present, after Secretary Harry Freeman read a report, which Mayor Harrison stated he had received from the city clerk of Ladysmith, describing Ladysmith as the logical site for the building of wooden and steel ships.

The report was signed by George Hale, Victoria shipbuilder, and H. A. Barnett, ship surveyor, and was, in the opinion of the meeting, in direct contradiction to a report dated May 12, 1941, signed by Mr. Hale and sent to Nanaimo industrial committee after he had made a survey of local sites.

Members pointed to clauses in Mr. Hale's first report, in which he stated in referring to Nanaimo: "It is probably the most advantageous location for wooden shipbuilding that I have ever seen in my long experience as a builder of wooden ships and the ships' berths could be extended out for almost a mile." In the second report, signed by Hale and Barnett, reference is made to costs of "capping" at Nanaimo.

It was also suggested at the meeting that owing to the urgent need of ships to help the war effort, that ships could be built at both Nanaimo and Ladysmith. The meeting decided to bring an expert to examine both locations and to call a meeting of Nanaimo and Ladysmith to consider the new report and agree on his decision.

U.S. May Seize More Ships

NEW YORK (AP)—Three merchant ships of the great Alcoa fleet were under federal requisition today and the U.S. government was ready to seize others as a dispute between seamen and owners over war bonuses threatened to burgeon into a general strike.

An estimated 14 ships of six companies were reported struck last night including the three vessels seized, the Alcoa Trader, Alcoa Banner and Alcoa Scout, owned by a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America.

2,000 Ships at Sea

A BRITISH PORT (AP)—Britain is keeping at least 2,000 ships constantly at sea and "never less than 400 in the danger zones," a war transport ministry official said today.

He reported a big speed-up in the landing of U.S. lease-lend goods through a quicker turnaround of ships.

Salmon Pack Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia total salmon pack to September 13 this year was 1,280,981 48-pound cases, 362,456 cases more than the total for the same period last year and better than any total for a similar period since the record year of 1936, it was shown today in a report issued here by the chief supervisor of fisheries.

Total to September 12 in the record year of 1936 was 1,351,499. Increases were shown in the pack of all species except chum salmon. The sockeye pack totaled 449,962 cases to September 13 this year, compared with 353,691 cases for the same period a year ago; springs totaled 23,698 cases, compared with 15,729; steelheads, 2,920, compared with 922; bluebacks, 29,741, compared with 21,857; coho, 264,182, compared with 134,753; pinks, 369,821, compared with 209,044, and chums totaled 140,657 cases, compared with 182,530 cases for the same period in 1940.

Sub Challenger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States navy announced today a cargo ship of revolutionary design which it was said could be produced by hundreds in much shorter time than present types and might offset sea losses. Light in weight, simple in construction, relatively cheap both in original cost and upkeep, this craft, the navy said, would challenge the submarine and provide "a new bridge from this country to the free nations of the world."

The United States has built and delivered 30 bombers to Brazil.

Torpedoed Seamen Reach Canada

Seventeen seamen from British Guiana, part of the crew of an 11,000-ton British steamship torpedoed by an Axis submarine in the South Atlantic, have reached Canada.

They tossed about the Atlantic for five days in a lifeboat after the U-boat sank their craft at 4:15 a.m. The sea was calm, and some of the survivors said they saw their attacker.

Their ordeal was ended when a British destroyer crossed their path. Three members of the crew of 49 were killed when the torpedo struck the ship.

Corvette Casualties

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty last night issued a casualty list containing the names of 116 officers and men aboard the corvettes H.M.S. Zinnia and H.M.S. Picotée, sunk by enemy action. The sinkings were announced earlier by the Admiralty.

Zinnia casualties number two officers and 45 ratings missing and presumed killed, one officer and one rating died of wounds and one officer wounded.

Five officers and 61 ratings of the Picotée are missing and presumed killed.

Larger Corvettes To Be Built

OTTAWA (CP)—The report published in the Vancouver Sun that a new type of warship only slightly smaller than a destroyer would be under construction shortly in a west coast Canadian shipyard evidently referred to a new type of large corvette which is planned to build in Canadian yards, Navy Minister Macdonald said today.

Before leaving London recently Mr. Macdonald said it was planned to build corvettes in Canada considerably larger than the ones which Canadian yards have been turning out.

The minister said today a considerable number of these larger corvettes were contemplated. They are too large to pass through the locks in the St. Lawrence, so they could not be built in upper lake yards but could be built in the lower St. Lawrence, in yards in the Maritimes and in British Columbia. The minister said that in all probability some would be built in British Columbia.

HONOR HAS BEEN ACCORDED one of Canada's leading automobile manufacturers. Despite the attainment this week of his 70th birthday—when the above photograph was taken—R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada, has decided to forego his anticipated retirement in order that he may continue to direct his company's important role in Canada's war effort. Mr. McLaughlin is shown at the left above, accepting from W. H. Moyses, dean of his employees, a sterling silver humidor presented to him by his associates and executives of General Motors of Canada. The occasion marked not only the president's birthday, but the 53rd anniversary of his entry into business as a coach builder, and since 1907 as a manufacturer of motor cars.

Migrating Birds Follow Supply of Food

Most birds "migrate." That is, they fly from north to south, or from south to north, as the seasons change.

The question comes, "Why do they migrate?"

A fairly good answer can be given by saying that they follow the food supply. When winter comes, they no longer have enough fruit, seeds, insects or worms to feed upon, so they fly to places where they can get a larger amount of food.

Baltimore oriole and nest. Orioles are among the songbirds which migrate.

That is part of the story, but it probably is not all of it. Birds have a long history, and there have been big changes of climate since they first came into the world.

Study of rock layers has shown that some warm-climate plants used to grow in northern parts of this continent, also in northern Europe and Asia.

Changes came about, and the climate in northern parts no longer was fit for such plants. The winters grew longer, the summers shorter.

Many kinds of birds which now migrate may have been all-year residents of northern parts long ago. Changes of climate may have driven them to start the custom of flying south.

In any case, here is an interesting fact: our migrating birds fly north to nest, not south. We might expect them to raise their young in their true homes, and by this rule their true homes are in the north.

Orioles, robins and bluebirds are a few of the songbirds which are watched with interest as they migrate. Some orioles go as far south as the torrid zone to spend the winter.

The Pacific golden plover makes its winter home in Hawaii and nearby islands. In the spring it flies northward across the Pacific to Alaska, and makes its nest there.

Some birds "fly low" when they migrate, keeping to a height of less than 200 feet. Others fly at an average height of a fifth of a mile, or a quarter of a mile. Still others speed southward, or northward, while more than half a mile above the ground.

Birds have skill in finding their way north and south. Some fly thousands of miles, yet are able to come back the next year to the very same nesting place.

HOROSCOPE

SEPTEMBER 20

Benefic aspects rule today. Public interests may claim much attention. It may prove a lively time for both business and private affairs. Social service affairs may be greatly discussed as new projects appear. Both men and women should be successful in overcoming any obstacles that may arise.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of an eventful year. Children born on this day may be courageous and persevering.

C.C.F. Candidate

Seeking to emulate the Winch family who had father and son in the last Legislature are Henry G. Webber (above), and his son, Bernard Webber. Henry is C.C.F. candidate in Esquimalt riding, and Bernard has the C.C.F. nomination in Similkameen. Henry Webber was born in London, England, and came to Canada in 1912. He worked for the Canadian Northern Railway.

For several years he was executive member of the Independent Labor Party in Manitoba. He was delegate at the Regina convention, where the C.C.F. was born. Coming to British Columbia, he settled at Shawnigan Lake. He was for 15 years legislative representative for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. He served overseas in the last war and is an active member of the Canadian Legion. He is also a member of the Malahat Board of Trade.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We have been married 25 years and have a son-in-high school. Now this is our story: My husband and I lost our love for each other more than 10 years ago, but because of our son we stayed together. For over five years he has been in love with another woman and she with him. He told me of this and asked for a divorce, but I refused it. Now his health is breaking because of his frustrated love for this woman.

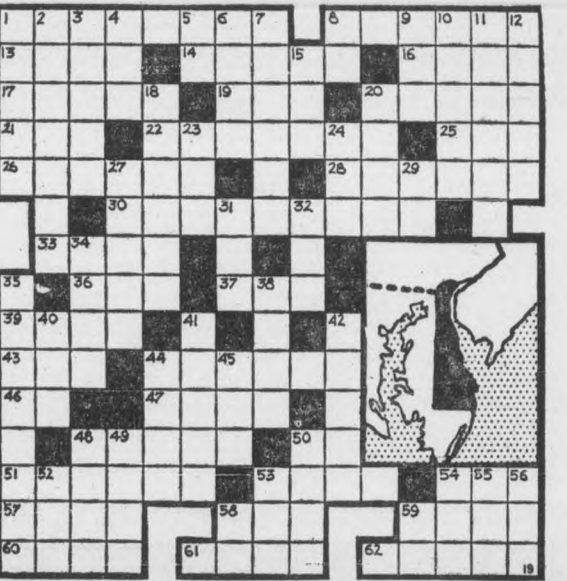

We are both very unhappy living in the same house together with this between us. My son understands the situation and urges me to give his father his freedom. My husband would provide for the boy and myself. Something must be done soon, for my husband is so unhappy he is starting to drink. What would you advise me to do?

Answer: Give your husband his freedom at once. Let him go to the woman he loves and be happy with her. Otherwise you will be responsible for the total wreck of his life. Likewise you will add to your own happiness by doing this deed of justice and mercy. For I can imagine no woman suffering a greater daily torment than the one who keeps a husband she does not love and who does not love her tied to her just for revenge.

I do not believe in wholesale divorce. I think that marriage is a very sacred institution and that one should not be broken up except for the gravest causes. I think that most divorces are a mistake, and that if husbands and wives would try half as hard to make successes of their marriages as they do of any other enterprise into which they go, there would be few broken homes.

DOROTHY DIX.

Letters to the Editor

SAANICH WELLS

Why does Reeve Passmore inform the taxpayers three days before the voting takes place that the experts' reports are available? I carefully read the geologists' report. What I read explains why the Reeve's invitation comes at this late hour. The following paragraphs are sufficient reason for the delayed permission: "Report cannot be accurate from the data available, further tests must be taken to be safe."

It has been said on the platform that one well-known civil engineer has given his approval to the Saanich scheme. I know that this expert did not give his approval or give permission for his name to be used.

All taxpayers should vote "no" until your government has held a public inquiry for your protection. You are not selfish if you protect yourself. When 95 per cent of the population are satisfied with the supply and the price, these people should not be burdened for 30 years, when the remaining 5 per cent can be supplied with an adequate supply at a small cost, if treated as a special unit.

Forecasting of Weather Told

"The 24 to 36 hour weather forecasts given out for the information of the public are, on a Dominion-wide average, 85 per cent accurate," said George L. Pincock, head of the meteorological department of the R.C.A.F. in the Belmont Building here, when he spoke to the Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday. The speaker added that the forecasts now given on the Pacific coast do not measure up to that degree of accuracy because of lack of information from ships at sea due to the war.

Mr. Pincock gave a short history of the science of weather forecasting and of the meteorological organization in Canada, and told of the detailed reports that had to be made out for information of airplane services.
